Uniquely

The dawning of a new explosive decade signified to Lake Central students the beginning of a school year totally unlike those of past years. New classes, different clubs, more teachers, and an increasing enrollment were new distinct features. As the school neared four years of existence, the class of '70 was honored as the first to complete their high school education in the new Lake Central building. LC students observed the nation and the world in 1970 and saw man on the moon as well as the first national draft lottery since World War II. Indeed, the Indians of Lake Central experienced a year which was UNIQUELY '70.

Faces at Lake reflect vitality of '70 people

What makes a school building unique to any other building but its people? LC's halls are filled with familiar faces of energetic cheerleaders, outstanding athletes, active club leaders, and dedicated scholars and teachers. These "famous" faces are not the only ones filling the space.

There are also the shy faces, lonely faces, and smiling faces of those people whose names one does not know. All of these faces are part of the young generation. Their owners keep the school alive and bursting with energy. These Centralites make every moment a vital part of a year which can never be lived again. They urge one to laugh, cry, feel with them. Without the people within its walls LCHS would no longer have a purpose. But because they are there characters have been molded, friendships formed, lessons learned, and leadership found.

Cheerleaders Chris Spragia and Jen Kasper add the finishing touch to a decorated locker of a basketball team member.

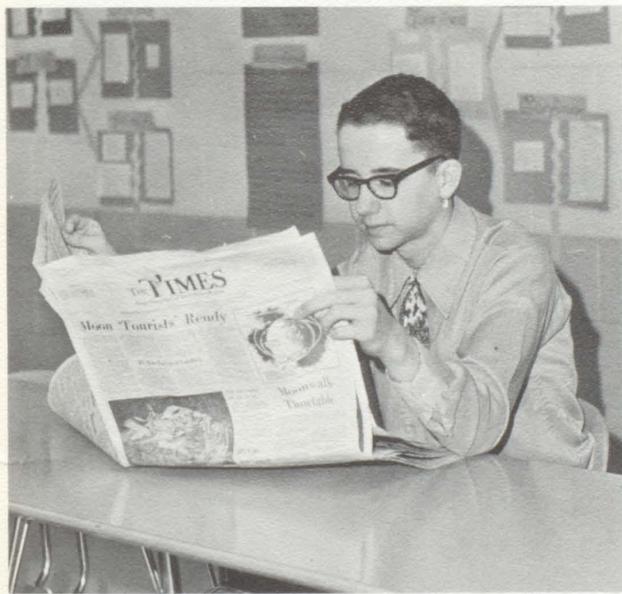

Teachers, besides spending time educating students, seek a voice in a request for their beliefs.

The walls of Lake Central High School shelter its own private world. This world is filled with people of many ages, backgrounds, and views of life. Here youth finds lessons to learn, exploits to experience, and life to live.

Sophomore Ron Welte shows an interest in current world affairs as he increases his knowledge by reading.

Sherry Phelps lays out pattern pieces on her material for her sewing project in a first hour Sewing II class.

Diane Horvatich and Marilyn Miller stop to think before venturing to answer a question in Mr. Fraley's English III class.

Masses of people rushing at one another is the impression conveyed as LC students change classes six times per day.

Vickie Cooke, like many other Centralites, finds the library useful for a session of peaceful study.

Youth establishes LC routines

Every year, no matter how unique, has its ordinary days. These days begin with the arousing ride on the school bus. Next, students get their books, slam their lockers shut, and find something or someone to occupy the time until classes commence. The early morning ritual of playing the national anthem starts the business of learning. During the morning hours students attend classes, greet friends, and feel the bustle of rushing Centralites. Lunch hour brings waiting in long lines before enjoying good food and pleasant conversation. During homeroom students view administrative reports, join in club activities, or concentrate on studies. Afternoon classes bring the final bell closer. The last few minutes of each instructor's lesson certainly fall on deaf ears as restless teens wait for 3 o'clock. Lockers bang once again and then all is quiet. Thus ends an ordinary day which was part of a year that was unique.

Early each morning the American flag is proudly raised in front of the Lake Central High School building. Cindy Boller, Bill Engle, and Karen Oxenreiter do not seem to mind the snow as they raise the stars and stripes.

The Marching Indians form a Maltese cross as they play "Bugle, Fife, and Drum" during halftime at Green Bay.

Mr. Douglas Jordan looks modest, in spite of the honor he has won directing the band, as he reads the judges' comments.

Lake Central's band entertains Green Bay Packer fans with one of their pre-game selections, "New Generation." The marching band

Jordan leads winning band

Under the direction of Mr. Douglas Jordan Lake Central's marching band has gained more honor this year to add to its already immense supply. They placed first for the sixth year in a row at NISBOVA, winning Sweepstakes for the seventh time. Head drum major Gail Walz honored the band by winning the outstanding drum major award. A thrilling event for every band and Centralette Corps member was the trip to play at Green Bay for the Packer-Cardinal game. Among the selections presented were: "Roses," "I Love Paris," "Chester," "Joshua," and "I Had a Dream." LC's Marching Indians entertain Indian fans and those of the opponent at football halftime programs. They also march at various parades throughout the entire year, whether the weather be freezing cold or boiling hot. This was a year to remember for LC band members.

was invited to perform at Green Bay after capturing NISBOVA Sweepstakes for the sixth year in a row.

Activities demand time, energy

Extra-curricular activities play a vital role in school life. Being a member of an award-winning band means donating time and physical energy to strenuous practice. Play productions demand hours after school and on weekends for constructing sets and rehearsing lines, as LC's theatre guild entertained audiences with "The Odd Couple" and "My Fair Lady", a musical. Centralites can be found working in the TV station. Active club members devote much of their leisure time to club projects. Some organizations sponsored after-game dances while others worked on charity benefits. Athletics require carefully planned maneuvers. Both male and female students participated in various sports events. Other students use their spare time for part time jobs, hobbies and projects of their own, all requiring time and effort.

Producer of "Viewpoint", Bob Voss prepares the board for another informative and interesting program.

Diane Young realizes how much hard work is involved in making the LC Centralette Corps a team, striving together for perfection.

Oscar (Dave Hoffman) and the four poker players (John Lesniewski, Dave Sims, Bob Domasica, and Roger Hughes) try to calm down Felix (Bob Baker) in a scene from "The Odd Couple", the Theatre Guild's fall production.

Tim Bannon enjoys the results of the efforts of hard working N-Teens as he obtains refreshments for his date and himself at the annual winter formal.

Teens strive for individuality

Lake Central's student body consists of four separate and unique classes. Each subdivision has its symbols which make it distinct from its counterparts. The freshmen were easily recognized at the beginning of the school year by their confused looks and bright yellow and orange beanies. Sophomores placed orders for navy vests (instead of the usual sweaters) in the fall and received them in mid-January. The thrill of being an upperclassman was realized as junior class rings arrived in September. Members of the class of '70 were distinguished by their senior cords, a new feature this year. As each unit strived to set itself apart as being the best, it combined with the others to make this year Uniquely '70.

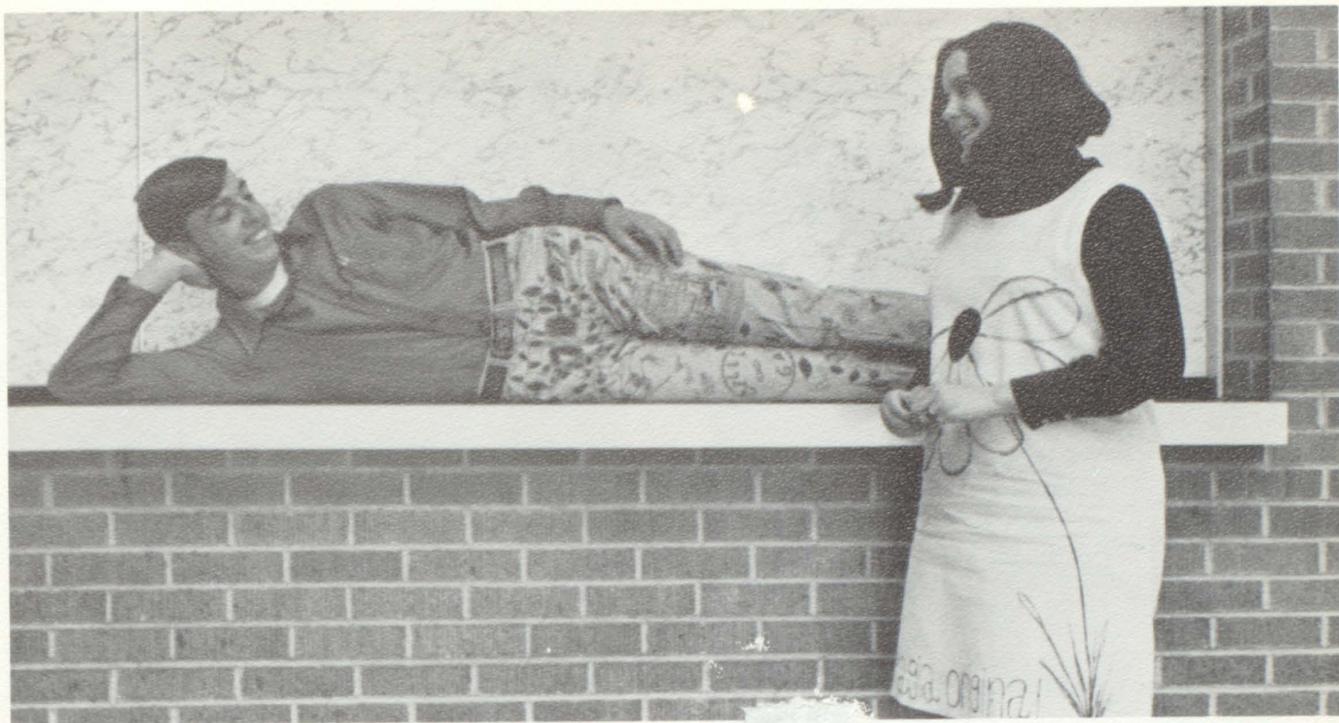

Junior class rings, in any style or color, are symbols of the pride of being an upperclassman.

Freshmen spirit was shown during basketball Homecoming week through such slogans as "Lion in Wait For a Victory."

A part of high school life is discovering traditions for the first time. Frosh Dave Morris seems engrossed in LC's trophies.

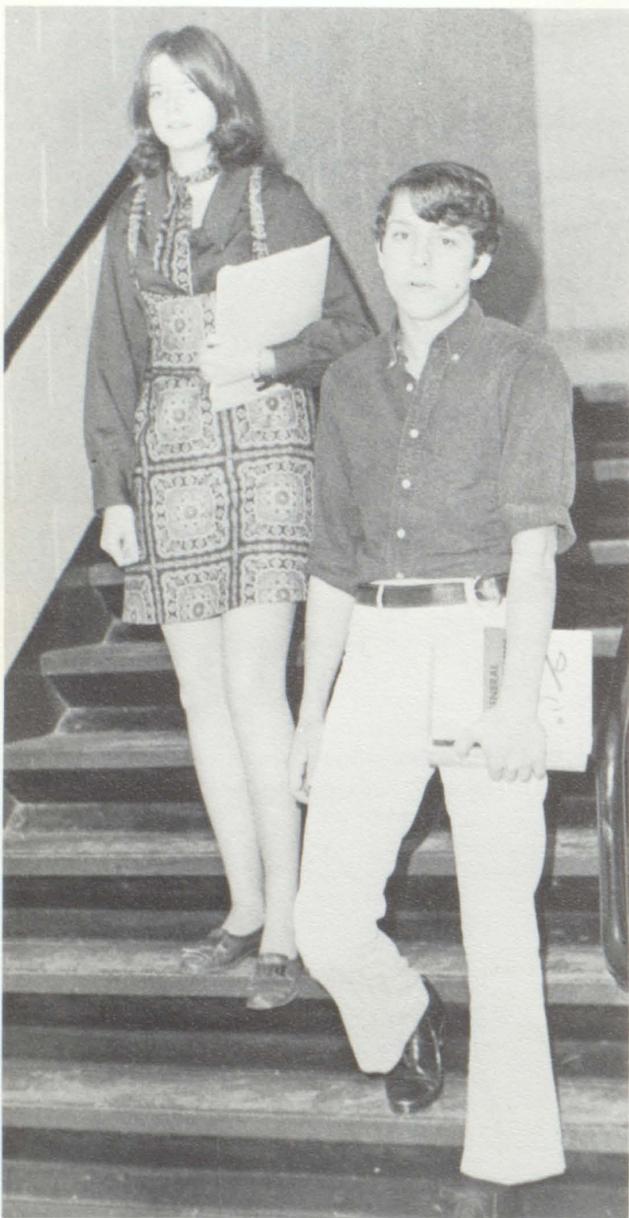

Seniors Dennis Brite and Mimi Spragia display their decorated senior cords, symbols of the completion of four years of hard work in high school. Members of the senior class initiated them this year hoping to start a new tradition.

Sophomore DeeDee Greer examines a newly arrived sweater vest for fit and quality.

Bell bottoms and jumpers as styled by Alan Wyler and Mary Fitch are popular school attire for the Lake Central student.

A variety of coats are seen throughout LC's halls, as shown by Roger Hughes, Linda Potts, Brenda Knight, and Lucy Muffett.

Girls at LC, such as Gail Walz and Kathy Manes, wear bright colored sweater vests for almost any event.

Vivid color sparks '70 fashion

Sally Hilbrich stops for a moment between classes to give her hair a quick brush.

Fashion in itself suggests something different for each month, season, or year. In the '70 fashion scene a variety of jackets and coats added a spark of interest. In spite of the continuing rise of the hemline the maxi-coat and maxi-skirt made their appearance in LC's halls. Bell bottoms were the pants for any occasion, whether it be casual or formal. At dances and games they were worn by both male and female teens. Various shades of color exploded all over shoes in '70. "Chunky" heels were added to usual buckles and straps giving them an all new look. High on the '70 fashion list were sweater vests in many hues. Styles varied between long or short and loosely or tightly knitted vests. The feminine look was highlighted with lacy blouses, long shiny hair, and tiny earrings. Steady couples could be picked out of the crowd by their matching stripes, plaids, or bright solids. Everywhere fashion in LC's halls made this year uniquely fashionable '70.

Bright shiny patent adds a luster to "chunky" heels and the usual straps. Besides the standard blacks and browns, navy, red, and gray are favorite colors in '70 shoes. Loafers and casual pumps are still as popular as always.

Activities

To escape the pressures of everyday school life, Lake Central students eagerly became involved in extra-curricular activities in 1970. From September thru May new projects sprang up and allowed students an opportunity to express themselves. The addition of decorated cars perked up spirit and competition at Homecoming. Months of preparation resulted in flawless performances of "Odd Couple" and "My Fair Lady." The N-Teen formal presented a unique scene of Central Park. Spontaneous applause and laughter praised brave students tackling a unicycle at the Turkey Trot for the first time. To LC Indians, experiences became memories with the fading of a year which was UNIQUELY '70.

Weinbrenner, Sally Hilbrich and Gary Massey, and Debbie Caldwell and Dave Smith.

Homecoming sparks competition

A determined football team and a spirited student body paved the way for Lake Central's fourth annual football Homecoming.

Festivities began on Thursday night with a parade ending in a pep rally at the football field. The sophomores, enthusiastic and strong in number and voice, led the annual N-Teens yell contest. Many hours of hard work payed off as the Senior's version of "Injuns Track Em Down" captured first place float honors. The traditional bonfire burned and blazed to the ground as the crowd scattered in anticipation of Friday's meeting with Gary Wirt.

Performing before packed bleachers and deafening cheers and drum beats the Indians battled the Troopers to the final gun behind the touchdown efforts of Greg Siedelmann and Bill Mista. Steve Turpin and Rick Wright ran the two point conversions to assure the Indians of a 16-16 tie.

Saturday night students gathered for an evening of relaxation and entertainment at the Letterman's dance featuring the "Escorts." The highlight of the evening came with the coronation of the king and queen. Reigning over this year's dance were seniors Dave Smith And Debbie Caldwell.

Reigning proudly over Homecoming activities were senior royalty Dave Smith and Debbie Caldwell.

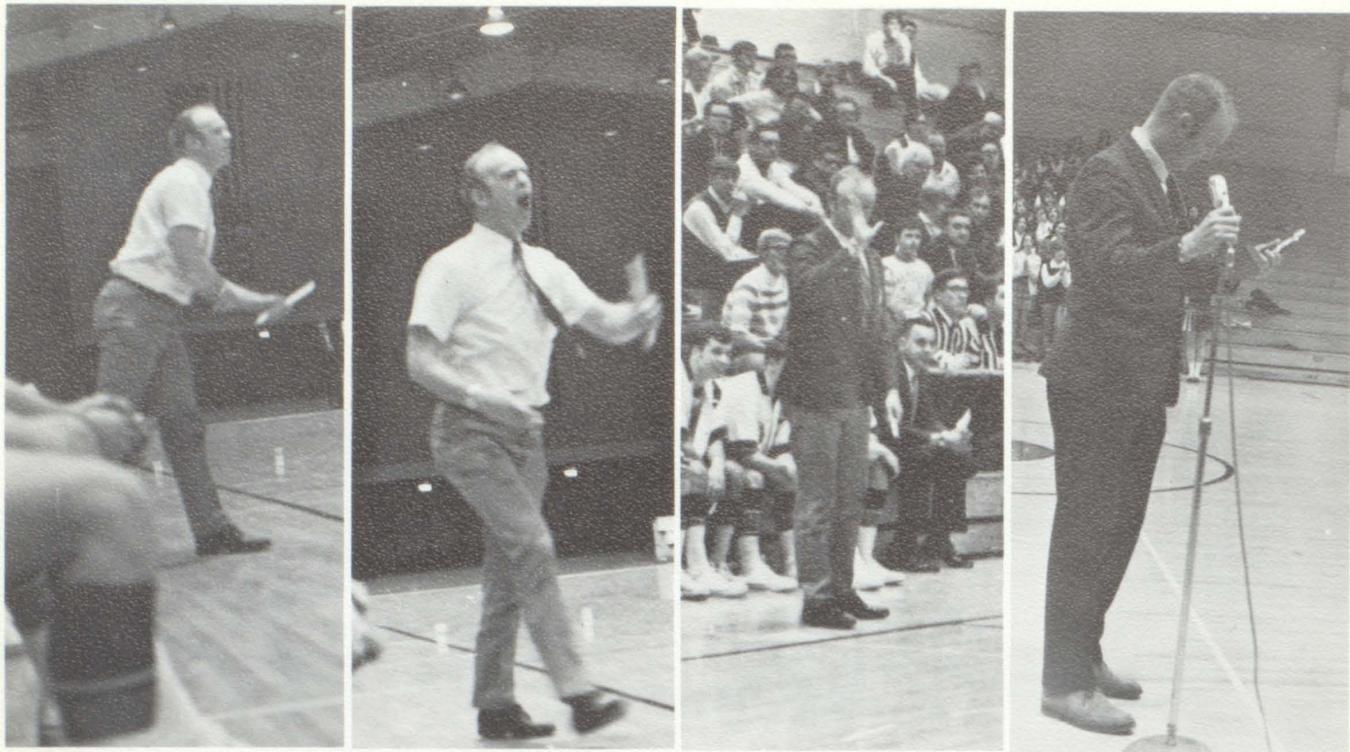

The rising spirit of the pep block captured the excitement and tenseness that prevailed throughout a hard fought game.

Forming a totem pole, seniors Michelle Tendick, Mary Lyons, Sharon Robinson, and Cindy Todd portray the spirit that earned their class the Homecoming spirit stick.

A new innovation was added to this year's Homecoming parade with the addition of decorated cars. One of the most popular entrees was Rhonda Laughlin's "Injun Bug."

Many tense and worrisome moments were spent by varsity roundball coach Tom Peyton, but the season's final outcome was rewarding. With Peyton at the helm, the Indians captured their first Sectional title.

Pacers revive lost school spirit

If all else fails to arouse 1450 student and faculty members, try a Sectional victory with twelve jubilant boys and a coach accompanying it. This was the key to the sudden wave of spirit that swept over LC as the prospect of regional competition loomed before her.

The predicted underdog of the CP Sectionals, the Indians upset the highly rated Crown Point Bulldogs to gain possession of their first sectional crown, much to the delight of Lake Central's inhabitants and her three surrounding communities.

Screaming sirens and a caravan of 200 cars, stretching over two and a half miles, greeted the Pacers upon their return to St. John. Flashing lights and honking horns led the team bus from St. John to Dyer and Schererville. It was evident to everyone that a Sectional champion had come home.

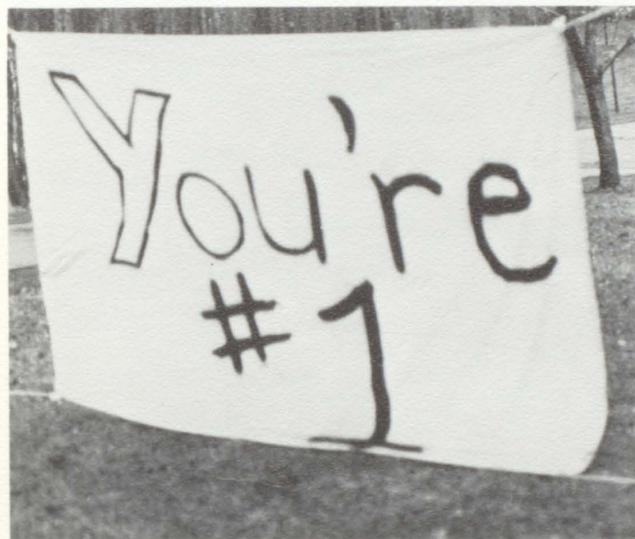

The enthusiastic participation at the pep session preceding Sectionals indicated a tremendous increase in team support.

GOOD LUCK LAKE CENTRAL

Community involvement initiated by the Sectional champs was acknowledged each time one passed through Dyer.

Coach Peyton will always remember the message that appeared in his yard the morning following his Sectional victory.

Jil Kasper, Phyl Fanolla, and Jen Kasper take part in a pep assembly skit in an attempt to motivate the student body.

Greg Siedelmann and Rick Nigh present Coach Peyton with a token of the team's appreciation for his time and efforts.

Senior pie-eaters tie at carnival

The 1970 version of the Quill and Scroll carnival once again drew a large and gratifying crowd. From the ring toss and pie eating contest to the dance, young and old alike found the opportunity to relax, laugh, and enjoy themselves.

Many hours of preparation were spent to make the gala affair a success. The foyer, fieldhouse, and upper gym were converted into underwater scenes to carry out the theme of "Atlantis '70."

The third annual pie eating contest ended in a draw between senior contestants Bob Domasica and Gene Matthews. Quiver candidates Bill Mista and Mimi Spragia were crowned king and queen at the post-carnival dance featuring music by the "State of Mind."

Gary Massey "digs in" as he participates in the pie eating contest, the main attraction at the carnival.

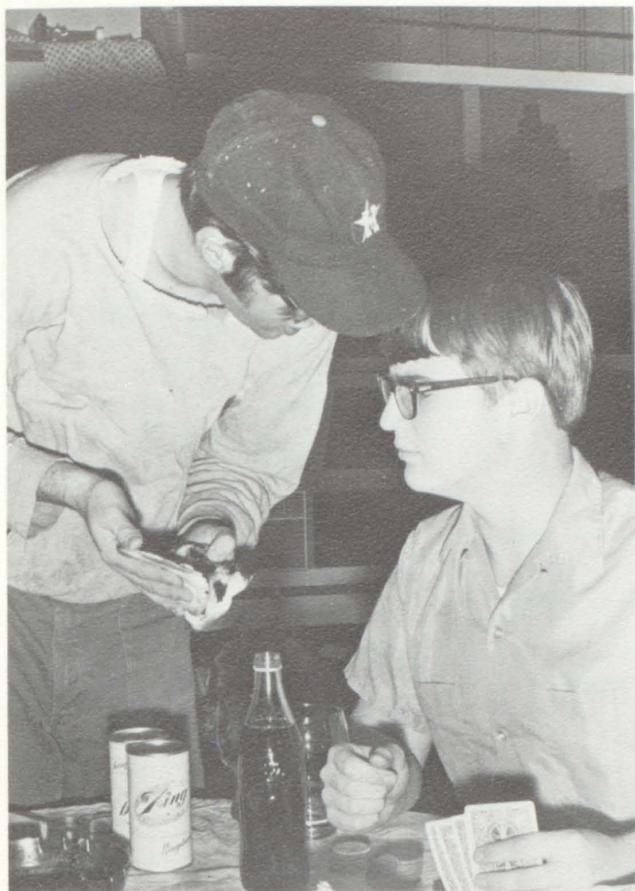

Working against the clock, Laurie Smith adds the final touches to the journalism booth before opening time.

In an effort to publicize the carnival, Trudy Morris, Patti Blaize, and Donna Peters donned clown costumes and visited neighboring grade schools, distributing bubblegum to elated students.

While welcoming the hundreds who entered her doors, "Atlantis '70" conveyed the general theme of the annual carnival sponsored by the Quill and Scroll.

Oscar (Dave Hoffman) convinces Murray (Roger Hughes) that a man can accomplish anything without a woman, even a good meal.

Gwendolyn and Cecily Pigeon, (Michaelle Michael and Mary Lyons), unite in an effort to comfort Felix (Bob Baker) after he has been thrown out by his wife.

Hoffman acts 1st leading role in "Odd Couple"

The Lake Central Theatre Guild opened up their season with a round of applause and a room-rocking with laughter as they presented Neil Simon's "The Odd Couple." The play employed the talents of only eight actors, the smallest ever adopted by directors Paul and Angie Lowe. Bob Baker and Dave Hoffman appeared in the lead roles while Mary Lyons and Michaelle Michael portrayed the Pigeon sisters, the only female members of the cast. The remaining members of the cast, Dave Sims, Roger Hughes, Bob Domasica, and John Lesniewski were featured as Oscar's poker playing buddies.

The story revolved around Oscar, who left his wife for the good life and Felix, who was thrown out by his wife and faced with no other alternative but to seek refuge with Oscar. This was an added complication in the life of Oscar and his nightly poker games as Felix insisted on assuming the domestic role of the household.

The poker players (John Lesniewski, Bob Domasica, Dave Sims, and Roger Hughes) tensely await the outcome of Felix's personal business while Oscar proves disinterested.

"By George she's got it," exclaims Higgins (Bob Baker). "Now once again, where does it rain?" "The rain in Spain stays mainly in the plain", repeats Eliza (Nedra Lancaster) much to the amazement and joy of Pickering (Jim Spivak) and Higgins.

"You wouldn't have the heart to send me home to your stepmother without a bit of liquid protection, now would you?", pleads Alfie Doolittle (Roger Hughes) with Eliza (Nedra Lancaster).

"Higgins, what about your boast that you could pass her off as a duchess at an embassy ball?", proclaims Pickering (Jim Spivak) as Mrs. Pierce (Cyndi Hartley) surveys Eliza (Nedra Lancaster).

Starring as Henry Higgins, a rich, notable Englishman, Bob Baker appears in his second musical lead.

Actors perform "My Fair Lady"

Alfie Doolittle (Roger Hughes) and his three bar-room buddies (John Lesniewski, Paul Mantel, and Jerry Hughes) bellow their philosophy that "With a little bit of luck you'll run a muck!"

Nedra Lancaster portrays her acting ability and talent which gained her the title role in LC's third musical.

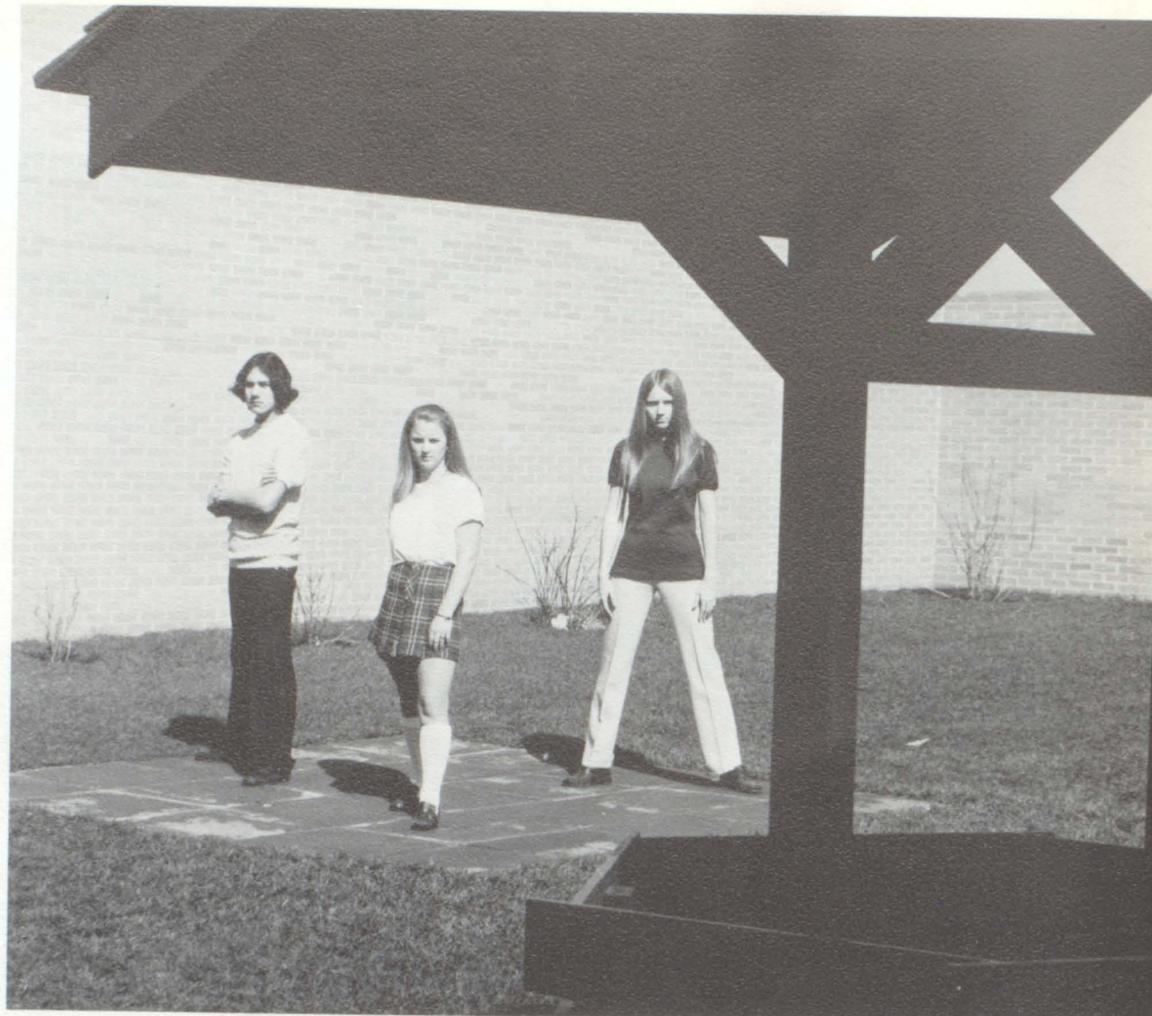

"I want to be a lady in a flower shop instead of selling flowers at the corner of Tottenham Road." With this goal in mind, Eliza Doolittle stepped onto the LC stage before hundreds of appreciative viewers. Throughout the three and a half hour musical production, six full house audiences watched as Henry Higgins took Eliza from the gutter and made her a lady.

For three months, cast, crew, and directors worked night and day to turn a high school play into a professional version of the original Broadway production. Working with 175 cast and crew members was no easy task for directors Paul and Angie Lowe. Doug Jordan and his "pit" band provided the musical numbers which highlighted the play while Karon Bailey arranged the choreography.

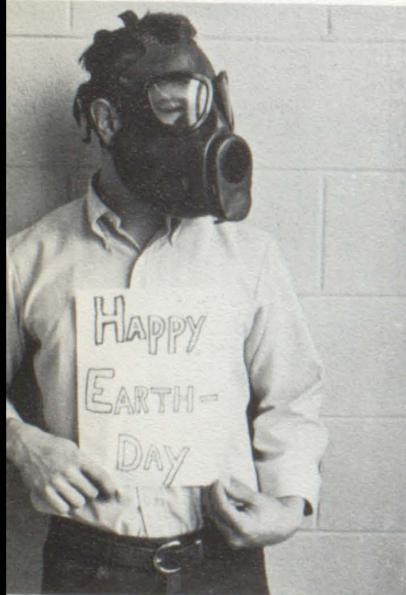

"I say Higgins, perhaps the poem is too difficult for the girl. Why not try a simpler one, like 'The Owl and the Pussycat?'" declares Colonel Pickering (Jim Spivak) to Professor Higgins.

Lake Central's student body experienced the freedom of a new, revised dress code as modeled by Victor Hoernig, Sisie Wood, and Monica Markiewicz. Styles ranged from long hair to minis.

Senior Bob Bibich and sophomore Ann Hovermale join fellow teens in the area and the nation as they fight one of the menacing problems facing the 1970's—pollution.

Chicago Cub pitcher Ferguson Jenkins captivated fans, both young and old, as the Cubs challenged LC faculty members in an exhibition basketball game in the Lake fieldhouse.

Special activities highlight '70

Lake's fieldhouse was transformed into the successful setting of WCAE's first auction in October.

The assorted and numerous activities provided during the '69-70 school year rendered a release for energy and a break from the monotonous everyday routine of classroom work. From basketball games to dances, students returned to campus after school hours to participate.

The annual N-Teen's winter formal, the Lettermen's Turkey Trot, and the First Senior Review all employed student involvement and participation. The community service of Earth Day initiated the participation of many in an attempt to fight pollution and remove litter from area neighborhoods. Giving students more individual freedom, a new dress code was adopted.

Reigning over LC's second basketball homecoming as Mr. All-Star and Miss Sweetheart were juniors Brad Moore and Debi Sidwell.

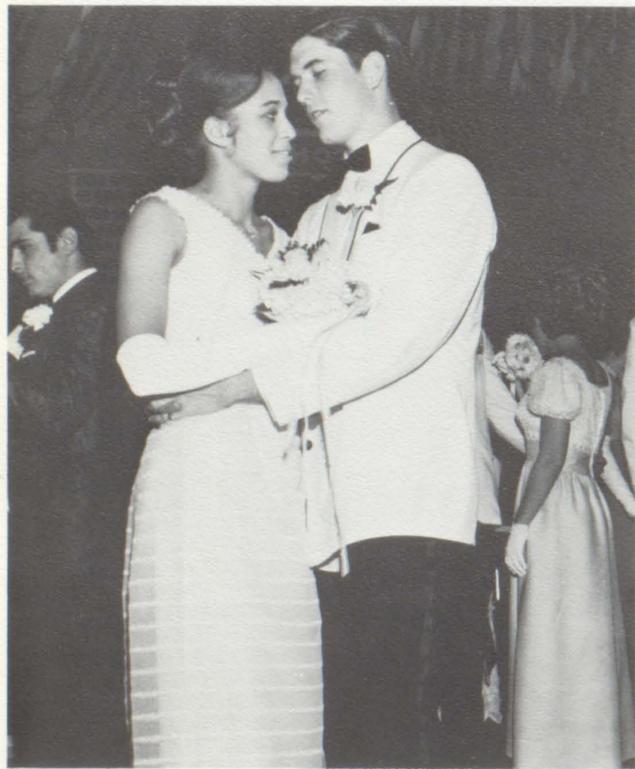

Dances provide a pleasing change of pace for LC students Debbie Hill, Toni Antkowiak, and Beth Brassea as they "do their own thing" to the beat of an electrified name band.

Gail Walz and Rick Wright proudly accept the honor of crowning this year's royal couple, Gary Elliott and Virginia Peters.

Carrying out his role as usher, Ronnie Hughes helps Sally Hilbrich from her car, receiving a smiling "thank-you" in return.

Karen Fane and Lee Hughes find themselves caught up in the romantic atmosphere provided by "Memories Down Main Street."

Mr. Robert Kelsey, LC faculty member and senior class sponsor, not only fulfills his job as chaperone at the prom, but manages to enjoy himself as well. Along with his date, Annette Schulte, he finds the dance floor the place to be.

"Gay Nineties" captivated the scene of this year's junior-senior prom. Country stores lined the fieldhouse, encircling the dance floor, while the foyer was converted into an enchanting park. Street lamps, picket fences, fountains, and gardens of flowers all characterized the theme, "Memories Down Main Street." Ushers in red and white striped blazers and hats added authenticity to the affair.

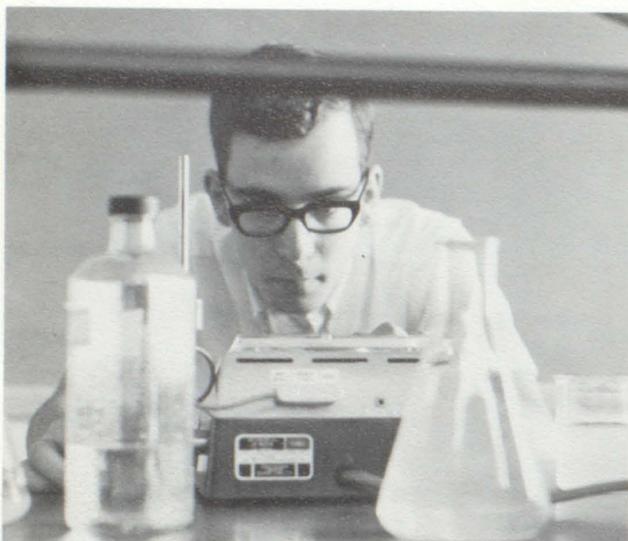

At the magic hour of midnight, couples dispersed to San Remo's Restaurant, the post-prom setting, where they loosened ties and abandoned high heels to swing to the soulful sound of the "Dontays."

Bonnie Dewes and Tim Knopf pause at the lamppost in the park and reflect on the memories of their evening.

Earnest work, leadership earn

Desires to excel scholastically coupled with extra-curricular involvement were recognized at the '70 Honors Day, one of the final activities as the school year neared its end. Achievements that students strove for throughout the preceding nine months were recognized by both faculty and student body at an all school assembly. From athletics and pep club, to math and leadership, awards were presented to deserving Centralites.

Phil Krieter was awarded for his outstanding achievements in science with the Bausch and Lomb Science Award as well as the Westinghouse Science Talent Search Award.

Attending Indiana State and Indiana University their junior year as Girl's and Boy's State Delegates were seniors Kathy Eggers, Dave Smith, Virginia Peters, Bob Baker, and Gail Walz.

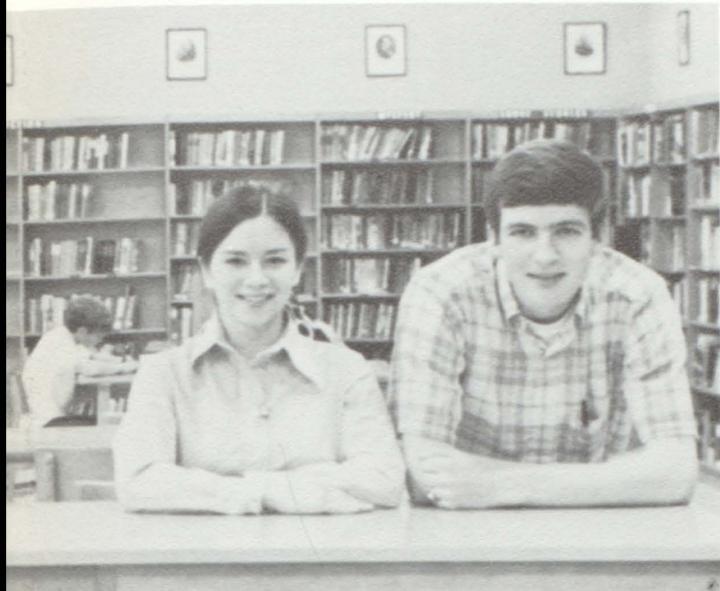

Linda Schiesser and Dave Smith were presented with Elk Scholarships, awarded according to character, activities, and financial Mrs. Wease and Mr. Bibich present Bob Baker with a college Scholarship to be honored at Drake University in Iowa.

Representing the highest academic achievements by taking the position of valedictorian and salutatorian of their graduating class were Marcia Gerka and Phil Krieter, respectively.

Linda Schiesser received the DAR Good Citizen award for her qualities of leadership, character, and community service.

Pat Laskey, recipient of the Betty Crocker Future Homemaker award, adds the finishing touches to her coat hem.

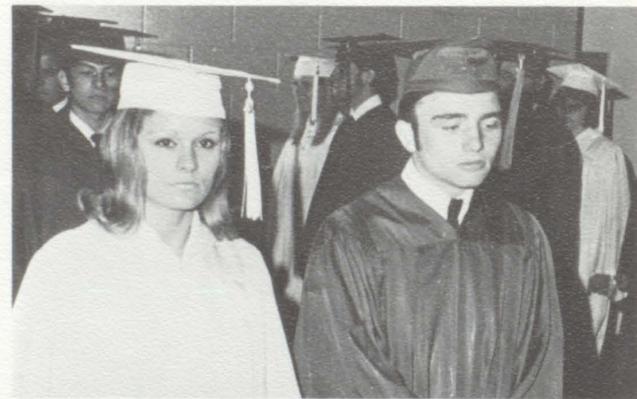

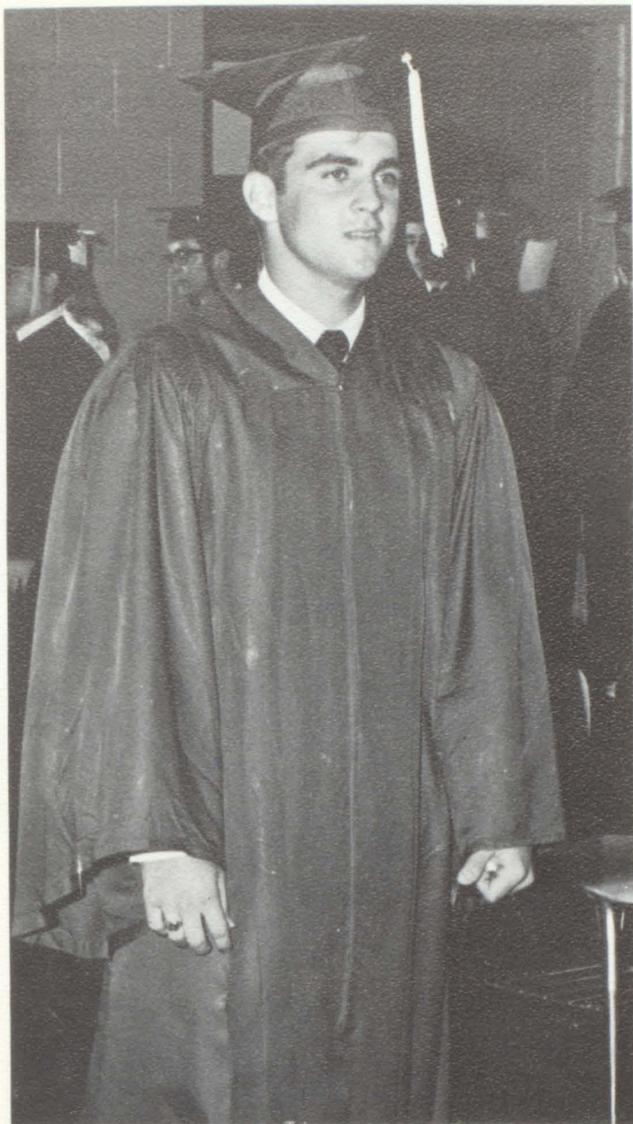

Hundreds of people gathered in the fieldhouse to watch as the class of '70 took their final step at Lake Central. A class of 289 students

Rick Wright faces the final moments of high school life with sadness at the thought of parting paths with friends, and excitement as he anticipates an unlimited future before him.

Diplomas received and tassels turned, the class of 1970 gathered for the last time as a unit of Lake Central High School, bow their heads for the final benediction.

'70 completes

1st four year

cycle at LCHS

"Ladies and Gentlemen, this is the class of 1970." With these words the first four year graduating class of Lake Central High School became history, leaving behind only memories of its existence.

From blueprint to brick walls, the class of '70 watched as the school took shape, soon to house over a thousand restless students. Throughout their four years of life at LC they saw WCAE, the first educational television station in Indiana become reality and achieve statewide acclaim. LC claimed two Sectional champions, one each in '69 and '70, giving the class of '70 the opportunity to participate on and support victorious teams. Finally, in their senior year, a long awaited revision of the long standing dress code took place. The class of '70 then bid farewell to LCHS.

After 12 years of schooling, Gail Walz reaches her ultimate goal—a diploma and a challenge from the outside world.

Organizations

Boredom because of not enough to do soon became frustration in an attempt to find time to do everything as new clubs began their existence at LC. Keen competition was stressed as the first bridge club members at Lake battled against each other in daily games. The Girl's Athletic Association struggled on to another victory with the capture of the first District Volleyball title. Thrilled but confident LC bandsmen excelled in precision and performance at Green Bay. Campus Life filled the school calendar with social happenings, sponsoring such events as a Pizza Blast and a Wild Goose Chase, all producing a year which was UNIQUELY '70.

Quiver pursues unique identity

With the beginning of a new decade, the 1970 Quiver staff also began searching for an identity all its own. The two column layout, new artwork and cover design, and well developed theme copy were among the devices employed by the staff of 25 students.

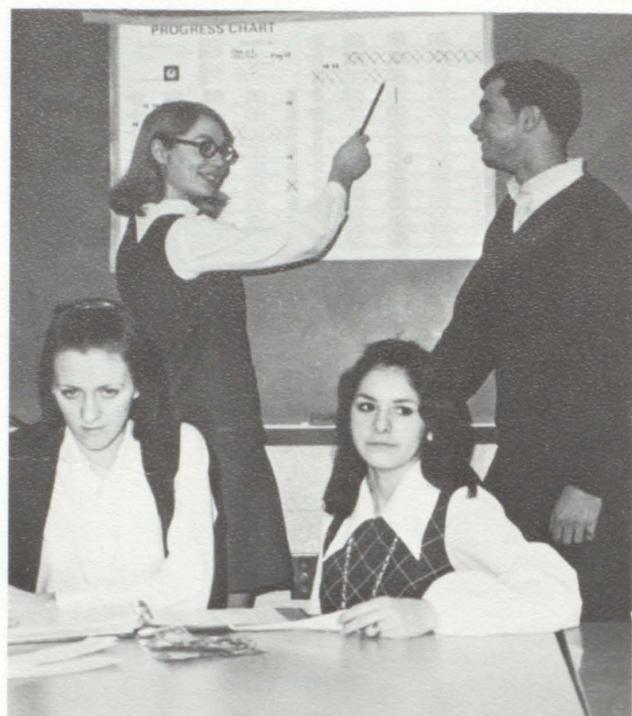

Term papers and final exams ranked a lone second as the overloaded staff hustled to meet the ever-present deadlines. Long hours and worry-filled nights beset editor Linda Schiesser and assistant editor Mary Marks as they rose to the cry for individualism.

Special summer deliveries also created its share of problems as extra time and energy was needed to complete the total personality and character of a special book which was "Uniquely '70."

Editor Linda Schiesser and assistant editor Mary Marks scan numerous yearbooks in a search for ideas which will make the '70 Quiver a special kind of book.

Quiver business staffers include Marsha Armstrong, business manager, Lynda Cantu, assistant; Virginia Peters, advertising manager, and Bill Mista, circulation manager.

Copy editor Nancy Schweitzer carefully recounts her headlines in a special effort to assure their accuracy.

Guiding staff members and providing help and assistance is Quiver advisor Mr. Ron Fritchley.

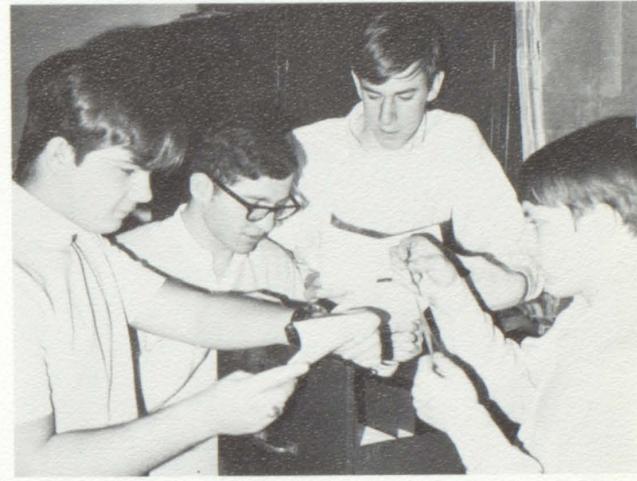

Constantly rushed by approaching deadlines are section editors Suzi Kilroy, organizations; Sue Fryer, activities; Dave Smith, athletics; Janine Siebert, academics; and Gail Walz, seniors. Verna Schulte, underclass editor is not present.

Artist Mary Lyons sketches several varieties of artwork for possible use on the Quiver's cover and division pages.

Photographers Nick Parker, Steve Sagri, P.J. Purdy, and Curt Humpfer examine their work and choose only the best for the contents of the 1970 Quiver.

Typing copy, doing layouts, and aiding the section editors are members of the layout staff: Paul Larson, Joan Pufahl, Monica Markiewicz, Denise Qualkinbush, Mimi Spragia, and Diane Young.

Jim Olson, Mike Miller, and Bob Bibich, sports writers kept LC students aware of the happenings in the sports department.

Rick Wright, Cheryl Carnahan, Joan Lentowich, and Dave Hoffman, business staff members, kept records of the money used to produce the Scout and corresponded with other schools.

Kathy Eggers, assistant editor and Sandy Jones, Scout editor carefully check over other school papers for new ideas.

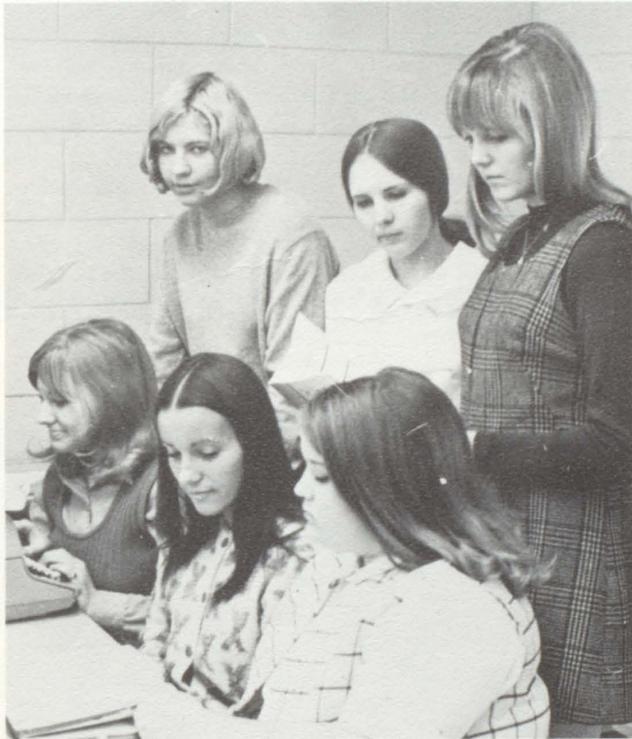

News Bureau members, Scott Andre, Terri Mayer, Kathy Beasley, and Debbie Johnsen supplied area newspapers with Lake Central news. Editor Phil Krieter was also responsible for selecting a representative to the Times weekly opinion poll.

Mr. Ron Fritchley, advisor, handles business calls for the Scout among his various other duties.

Feature writers and columnists, Charmaine Solan, Terri Spirito, Brenda Knight, Debbie Janda, Deb Wilson, and Sharon Robinson worked busily each week to meet the ever present deadline.

Scout records weekly action of Centralites

Room E213 echoed with the flurry of rustling papers and pounding typewriters as 21 Scout staff members hustled to meet weekly deadlines. The '70 newspaper expanded as new features including Norm's Corner and a cartoon series, Joe Depression, added new interest for its readers.

Keeping people from surrounding towns informed of LC's happenings was the job of the News Bureau staff headed by Phil Krieter. The reporters sent schools news to eight newspapers throughout Lake County as well as seven radio stations including WWCA in Gary.

Reporters, Bev Ratcliff, Shari Buwa, Mary Beth Link, and Michaelle Michael continuously searched for exciting news for the Scout.

Staff artist Norm Sizemore and layout editor Peggy Ferguson confer about his latest drawing for the Scout.

SC edits dress code, improves student policy

Student Council members Jen Kasper and Chris Spragia put the finishing touches on the office Christmas tree. The decorating of this tree is an annual event for the Student Council.

Leadership, dependability, and the willingness to work are characteristics of the LC Student Council members. Student Council provides the opportunity to let students express their ideas and opinions. This year a new device was added to aid the Student Council. This was the Kitchen Cabinet. Members of the Kitchen Cabinet were various student leaders. The main project was a revision of the LC dress code. This year's Student Council and Kitchen Cabinet met weekly in order to write a new dress code according to the student views and opinions.

Other Student Council projects include sponsoring football Homecoming in October and a basketball Homecoming in February. These sponsored activities promoted school spirit. They also sponsored the annual Roaring Fifties Day at Christmas, along with a few special assemblies.

Q&S is heart of publications

Under the leadership of Janine Siebert (foreground) Quill and Scroll members consider the possibilities of "Atlantis—1970."

Lake Central Quill and Scroll has become one of the more active organizations in the school since its formation six years ago. This international honorary society for high school journalists upholds the highest standards as each member must be in the upper third of his class, be a member of a publications staff, complete at least one year in a journalism program, and accumulate the local chapter's point requirements.

Pot Pourri, the school's general interest magazine is sponsored by Q&S as well as the annual carnival. The carnival theme was "Atlantis—1970", featuring an under-water atmosphere.

New innovations in 1970 were the Junior-Senior Powder Puff football game and the foundation of a $200 cash college scholarship co-sponsored by the Herald newspapers. The scholarship was open to any senior who planned to major or minor in college journalism.

Janine Siebert served as 1969-70 president, Mary Beth Link, vice president; and Terri Mayer, secretary-treasurer. Mr. Fritchley was chapter sponsor.

Motivating senior N-Teens with a new sense of drive and vigor were this year's club officers: Denise Qualkinbush, president; Joyce Haralovich, vice-president; Joan Davis, secretary; and Brenda Armstrong, treasurer.

N-Teens' new title, sponsors spur progress

N-Teens sought an identity all its own this year. By discontinuing its membership from the YWCA in Hammond, the '70 N-Teens were better able to serve the people of their respective community. This advantage sparked the desire for a new name. After dropping the "Y", the girls added "N" to teens, signifying NEW Teens.

Following the guidance of two new sponsors, LC's largest club sought unification through its various projects. In the fall of the year, freshmen were initiated at the annual Weiner Roast. At Thanksgiving, the junior club collected food baskets which were given to the needy area families.

To earn money for the winter formal, the girls sponsored sweater raffles, popcorn sales, and the annual shopping trip to Chicago.

Under the direction of Debbie Koebeske and Suzi Kilroy, "Winter in Manhattan" transformed the foyer into a romantic setting of Central Park.

N-Teen sponsors Miss Hoffman and Miss Lambert spent much of their spare time developing new ideas in hopes that this year's club would be the best.

N-Teen members and their escorts relax and enjoy the beauty and serenity of a "Winter in Manhattan."

Senior girls gaze on as freshman Sue Maciejack is "asked" to sing the school song at the Wiener Roast.

The recreation period of the Wiener Roast finds senior cabinet members forming a pyramid amidst the giggles of onlookers.

Besides adding size and spirit to the senior club, junior N-Teens modeled their own activities and campaigns. Leading the way were officers: Debbie Qualkinbush, president; Jeanette Hoffman, vice-president; and Suzanne Girman, secretary.

Thespians strive for perfection

Pride soared to new heights this year for the LC Thespians with the presentation of two sellout plays, "The Odd Couple" and "My Fair Lady."

Dave Hoffman played the comic role of Oscar Madison, and Bob Baker portrayed Felix Ungar in Neil Simon's, "The Odd Couple", presented in the fall. Special problems developed with the spring musical, "My Fair Lady." Nedra Lancaster, playing the lead role of Eliza Doolittle, as well as the rest of the cast, were faced with the difficult language barrier. The English "cockney dialect" presented new problems to overcome while pronouncing words correctly.

Talent, fun, and hard work became essential for each of the 40 Thespians. They earned their membership through active participation on the casts and crews of past productions. Actors and actresses found themselves battling new and different lines, strange accents, and varied moods and emotions. Mastering the movements and gestures were only a small part of presenting outstanding productions for the students and community of Lake Central.

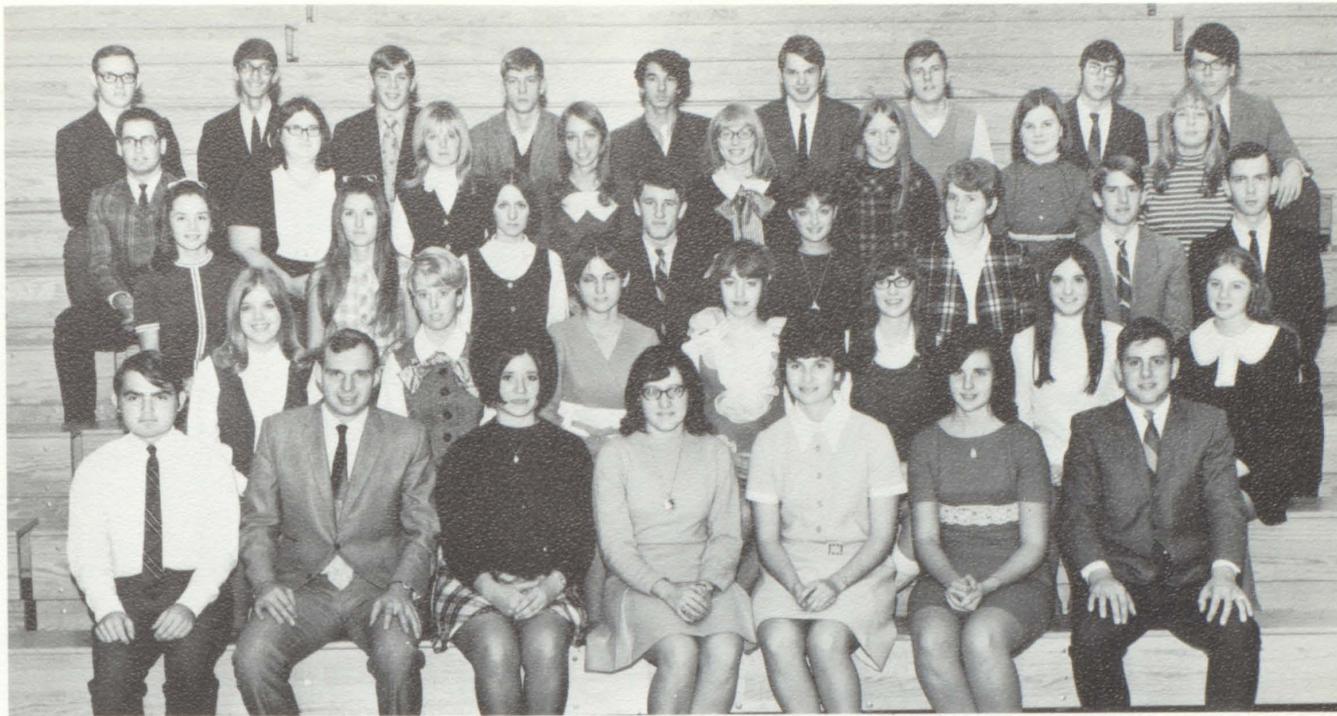

Thespians Debe Yankey and Mike Jackson diligently work on sets for the spring musical, "My Fair Lady."

NHS weighs tri-semester plan

National Honor Society members Kathy Eggers and Gail Walz contemplate over an extended school year plan and the induction of new members with sponsor Mr. Paris.

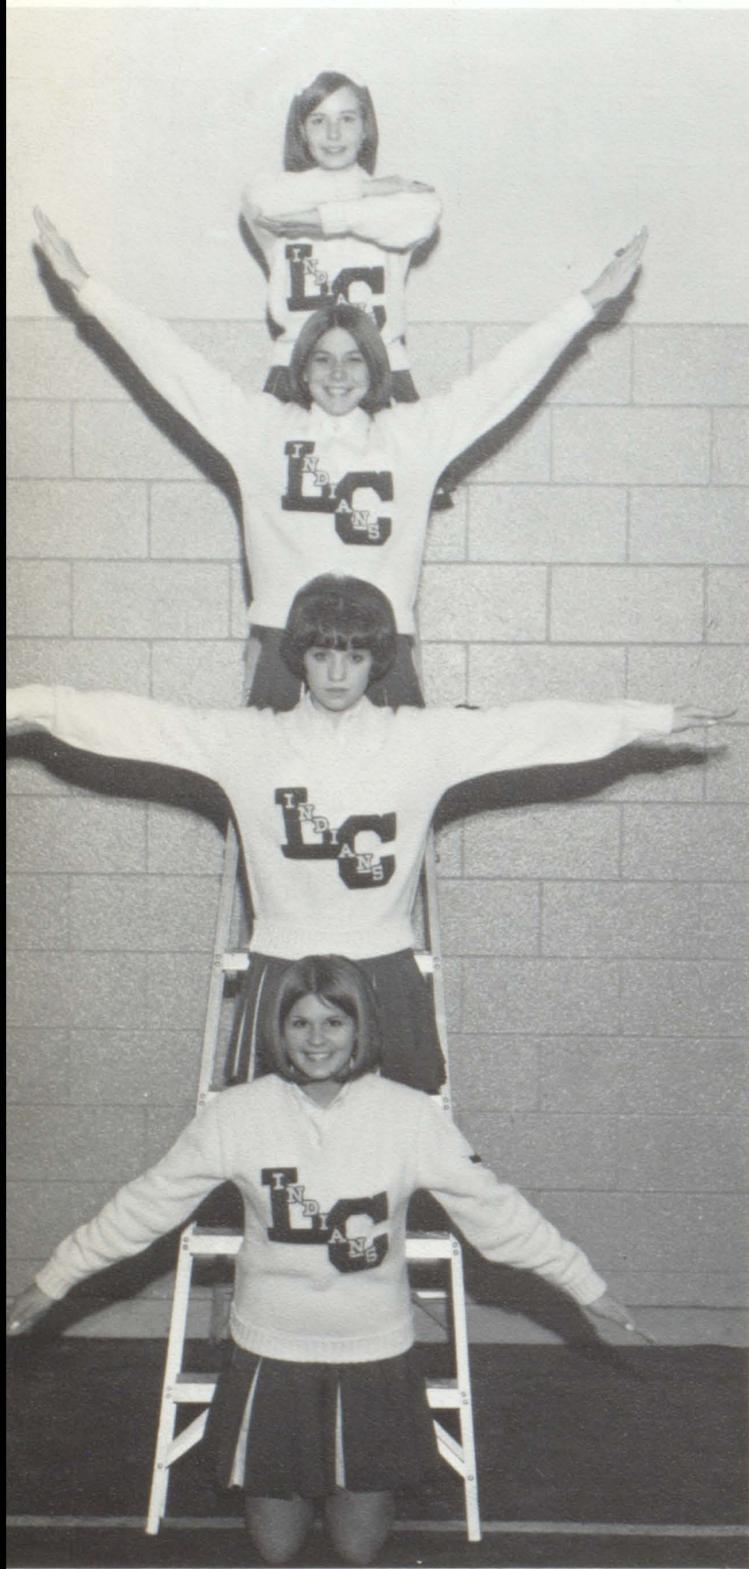

Cultivating a sense of leadership, scholarship, character, and service, National Honor Society members endeavored to enrich themselves and their school through a widening scope of activities.

The up-dating of LC's curriculum became a far-reaching goal as the 39 members and sponsor, Mr. Lee Paris, critically appraised the demands which a changing society has on its youth.

An increasing enrollment and a declining of available classroom space prompted the formulation of a special NHS committee which considered possibilities of a year-round school term. The pros and cons of this "tri-semester" plan presented challenges to committee members as they researched techniques utilized by other educational systems.

Highlighting the remainder of the year were activities such as a spring induction of new members, a carnival booth, and a May banquet.

Justak organizes unified block

Preceding the varsity games, junior-varsity cheerleaders lead spectators in rousing yells.

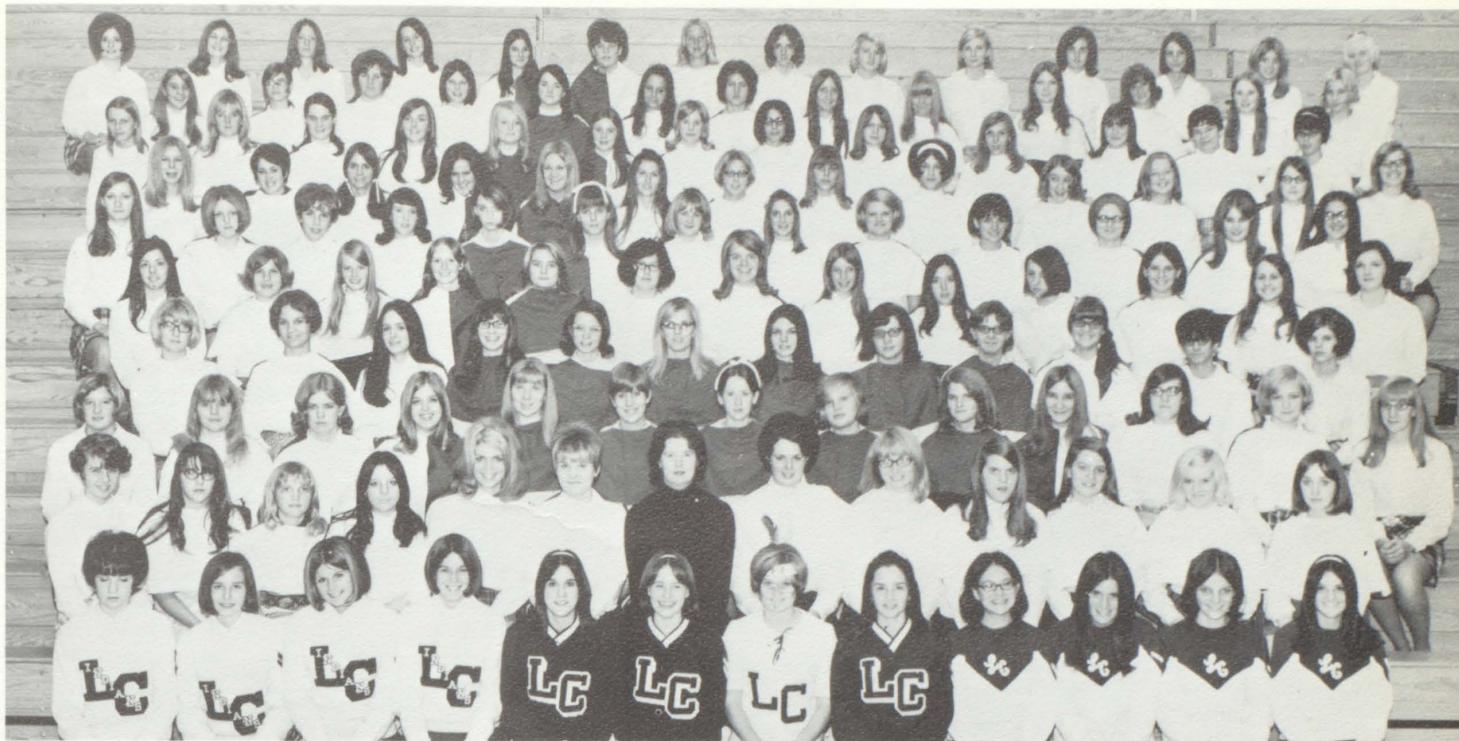

Emphasizing a need for an increase in school spirit, coach George Justak endeavored to organize a unified boys pep block. Large in size and volume, they joined forces with the girls block to display their backing of LC athletic teams. With bow and arrow in hand, headdressed chiefs led the enthusiastic group and helped to prod the Indians on to victory.

Donning capes, headbands, and feathers the girls block also sought size and volume. For the first time in Lake history the girls made and wore royal blue vests. Adding color and unity to the block, these vests served as a kind of incentive for pep and unison. Working diligently with the varsity cheerleaders, the girls created many unique formations. Thunderous echoes filled LC's fieldhouse as the two blocks prepared for the upcoming games.

The Pep Club, under the direction of Mary Lyons, president and Miss Kathy Arbuckle, sponsor spent many long hours painting and hanging spirit signs in the various hallways. A new activity this year was the sale of small, stuffed animals, aptly named the "Wild Animal Sale." The members also stressed spirit by making good luck clovers and other emblems.

Pep block member Dan Harmon climbs on the back of a comrade in hopes that he will attain a better view.

Pep club members strive for a heightening of school spirit. Guiding the group are officers: Mary Lyons, president; Mitzi Norris, vice-president; Virginia Peters, secretary-treasurer; and Shirley Gilliam, project chairman.

Hair goes flying as Nancy Krol and varsity cheerleaders accent the "starting five" with Russian splits.

Sportsmen endure Canadian trip

Boys' and Girls' Sportsman Clubs worked exclusively at gaining a better knowledge of outdoor life. The girls' club learned how to "rough it" by taking weekend camping trips to Willow Slough. Pitching tents, building fires from scratch, and obtaining no luxuries were all part of the planned activities.

In August, the girls took a two week trip to Canada. They learned how to battle the rapids in canoes and trained for the trip by carrying a canoe over their head around the school grounds.

The boys' club raised money by sponsoring such projects as the annual gun raffle. The proceeds from this went towards a special camping trip for the teachers during the summer.

Conditioning themselves for the cold winter months, the boys had "freeze outs" down in Willow Slough. Like the girls, they also took a summer camping trip to Canada.

High-stepping Centralettes add

Adding pride, color, and uniformity to the Lake Central Band became the goal of the 1969-70 Centralette corps. The squad has grown from a size of six girls in 1957 to its present size of 34.

During school time as well as many extra-curricular hours the girls could be seen practicing in order to acquire a touch of professionalism and perfection in their performances.

Marching with the band at football half-times, parades, and contests made up only a small portion of a wide range of activities. The girls spent much of their time creating original dance routines to jazz music. Attired in crocheted vests or gold "cowgirl-type" outfits, the Centralettes presented these routines during the half-time of many home basketball games.

The thrill of being a part of an award-winning band was appreciated as the majorettes performed at NISBOVA, Butler, and Green Bay.

Head majorette Peggy Ferguson and assistant Sue Homner work on intricate routines at one of their after-school rehearsals.

Pride and satisfaction accent the face of Centralette Sisie Wood with the announcement of another NISBOVA victory.

Director Mr. Douglas Jordan shouts last minute instructions as the band and Centralettes prepare for another performance.

Braving mounds of snow and freezing temperatures, LC bandsmen await their pre-game and halftime show at Green Bay.

"Ladies and Gentlemen, I proudly present the 1962, 1964, 1965, 1966, 1967, 1968, and 1969 NISBOVA sweepstakes winners—The Lake Central High School Marching Band."

Keeping the tradition of winning the Northern Indiana State Band, Orchestra, Vocal Association sweepstakes was the 1969 Lake Central Marching Indians. The 161 Bandsman and Centralettes performed "A Tribute To Music" at Columbia City, Indiana, last October. For the first time, the band used the "swastika" style of marching to the tune of "Bugle, Fife and Drum." They also played "The New Generation" in which each bandsman "did his own thing." Gail Walz received the baton for the best drum major.

Centralettes completed a victorious year with another win at the Whiting 4th of July parade and at the NISBOVA contest.

FTA evaluates Hoosier colleges

Lake Central's Future Teachers of America, under their new sponsor Mr. Richard Ossanna, planned many new and different activities this year.

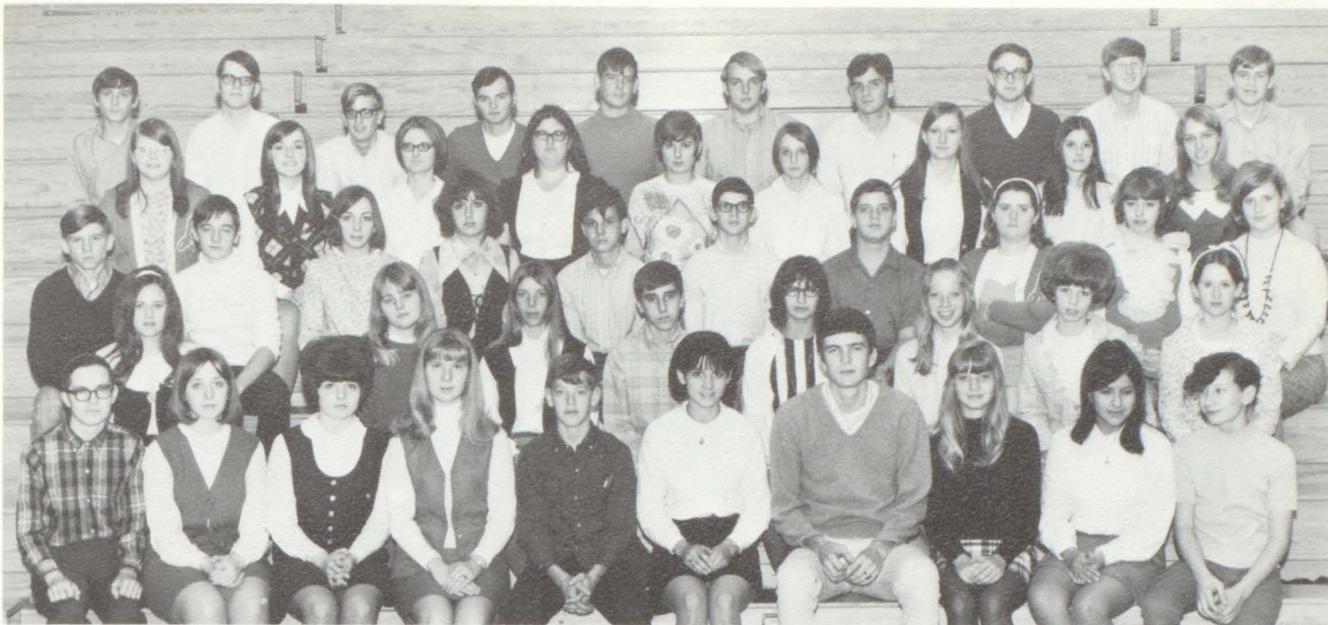

In an attempt to better acquaint their members with the teaching profession, the FTA planned field trips to Notre Dame and Valparaiso Universities. A book fair was in November in which nearly 2000 new books were available for student purchase. An annual activity sponsored by the FTA was the Teachers Tea in May.

The Medical Professions Club strived to enlighten its members to the advancement and satisfaction in the medical field by a trip to a local hospital. Other activities sponsored by the MPC were a Thanksgiving basket for the needy and a Christmas Party for the Girl's Carmelite Home. The highlight of the year was the presentation of a 100 dollar scholarship to a senior medical major in college.

A tremendous increase in the size of Campus Life this year came about as a result of their many new and distinctive activities including a Manhunt, Pizza Blast, World's Largest Hayride, Wild Goose Chase, and Haunted House. As another activity, students selected Lucy Muffett as Miss Sweetheart to represent LC at the regional contest.

Placing no requirements on membership, Campus Life has become an open organization within Lake Central for all students wishing to find purpose in learning, living, and sharing the Christian life.

Through running the school bookstore, Commercial Club members gained practical experience in business. The members also visited business establishments and participated in community service projects.

GAA triumphs in area tourney

Lake Central's Girl's Athletic Association proudly displayed their trophies and awards symbolizing a success within their organization in 1970. Among these recognitions was a blue and silver trophy earned by defeating all high school GAA volleyball teams in their district.

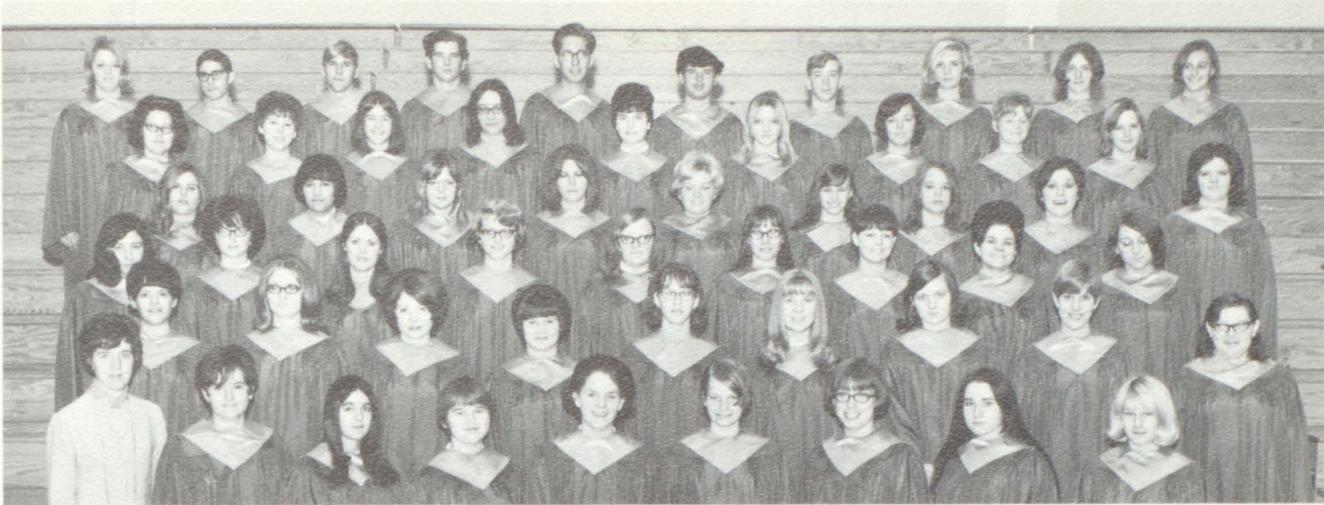

The club triumphed in basketball by nearly doubling their score over opponents in each win for the GAA traveling basketball team. Not only did the girls become victorious in competition with other schools, but they also practiced routines and moves with the club members through the basketball intramurals. In addition to these sporting areas, the GAA and sponsor Mrs. Sandra Peters practiced bowling techniques.

Quartet adds color, rhythm to LC Chorus

Spirited and harmonious, LC's Chorus, under the guidance of Miss Sharon Oldaker, entertained student and adult audiences at their many concerts. These were presented October 18, December 18, and March 16 in the Lake auditorium. They also participated in a Folk Festival in March at Munster High School.

Attired in lively red, white, and blue outfits, the Ensemble and Barbershop Quartet added a spark of color and vivacity to the Choral Department.

Performing at many local benefits, the Barbershop Quartet spent many hours after school perfecting their routines.

Both the Ensemble and Quartet attended the performance of the opera, "Don Giovanni," at the opera house in Chicago during November. They were also selected to sing at the Model A Convention held at San Remo's during February.

Lettermen master athletic skill

Bob Mundo, Steve Turpin, and Jim Funderlic viciously struggle to win first place in the tug of war contest at the annual Lettermen's Turkey Trot.

"Go, fight, win, and raise money," exclaimed this year's Lettermen. Under the supervision of Mr. Les Milby, the new motto stimulated the athletes to raise funds for sporting equipment.

The annual Lettermen's Turkey Trot proved to be a special experience this year. Both the freshmen girl's and boy's tug of war teams outpulled all of the upperclass teams. But even with this victory, the senior class won the most points to win the over-all award a gigantic turkey drumstick.

Senior Dan Harmon won the most individual awards as he placed first, along with Dave Kaluf, in the wheelbarrow race and two-legged race. Dan also came in second in the boy's mile run being defeated by freshman Joel Andre. Junior Patty Kuntarich placed first in the girl's half-mile run.

The 60 Lettermen, who had earned letters at least twice in a sport, also sponsored the Homecoming Dance and sold programs at football and basketball games.

From the Jacketmen, an honorary Lettermen's club, an outstanding athlete was presented with a Letterman's blanket. The recipient must have obtained five or more letters in any sport. This year's club proved to be not only an athletic club but a competitive club as well. Through its various activities, the boys improved their athletic abilities.

French Club's float places 3rd

French Club's float for the 1970 Basketball Homecoming, "Head Em Off", captured third place honors this year through the hard work of the members. The French Club sponsored the Marriage and Nail Pound booths at the annual Quill and Scroll Carnival. The club, organized in 1967, has grown to about 60 members. It also sponsored a $200 scholarship to a senior who intends to continue his studies in French.

Working closely with the other three language clubs,

Spanish Club helped to sponsor a Christmas dinner and the football Homecoming float.

As a fun activity, the Spanish Club sponsored a Quick Mexican Divorce booth at the carnival. Here students could receive a fast divorce by crossing the border from the French Club marriage booth.

Club members had an international dinner in the spring with the purpose of promoting interest in the Hispanic people.

WCAE airs Viewpoint program

Lake Central has the distinction of being one of four high schools in the country with an educational television station. In order to promote interest in this means of communication, the TV Broadcasting Club was formed this year.

Members of the club participated in student programs throughout the year. They created and produced programs such as Viewpoint and coin collectors forum with many shows interviewing politicians such as Senator Birch Bayh and Mayor Richard Hatcher of Gary.

With Mr. Lou Iaconetti, club sponsor, the members were able to take a field trip to a network station in Chicago.

The Industrial Arts Club was formed in 1958 by Mr. Linley. It was changed to the Industrial Education Club when more shop classes were added to the school curriculum. The club planned field trips to local businesses.

Athletics

As the mentally-affluent society surrounded the lives of Lake Central students, the need for physical exertion and team spirit became an equally important aspect of education in a special school year. The enthusiastic yells of a new coaching staff exhibited their "You Can Do It" philosophy. Shreaks and screams of anxious spectators and cheerleaders were commonly viewed scenes at all forms of athletic competition. The agony of defeat was pacified when thoughts of other times and other games would come. Strong will power and team effort motivated the varsity squad to a Sectional victory in a phase for the Indians of Lake Central which was UNIQUELY '70.

Gridders welcome new coaches

New coaches Justak and Traviola show anxiety during the Homecoming game which ended in a 16-16 tie.

Lake Central's football program had numerous changes for the '69 season. The team was introduced to three new faces and a new offensive pattern. The team responded to the changes with a 3-5-1 season record.

The three new faces were head coach Harold Traviola and line coaches Ed Weitecha and George Justak. The three came to LC from three different backgrounds and with new ideas. Coach Traviola came from Muncie South where he was head coach. Coach Weitecha had ten years coaching experience at East Chicago Roosevelt before coming to LC this year. Coach Justak was in his first year of coaching after graduating from Western Kentucky University.

The new offense was the style used by Indiana University. The IU offense was a complete change from the offense used in previous years. It was an offense lead with a passing attack instead of the running game previously used.

The new offense and the new coaches combined for a exciting and interesting year of football at LC. The Indians opened the regular season by knocking off the Gary Emerson Tornadoes 20-18. The rest of the season proved to have more surprises for the team as it adjusted to the changes. Not all of these surprises displayed themselves in the record as some showed up as individual achievements.

JV readies athletes for varsity

Record alone does not prove the worth of a team. This is the case of the '69 JV football team. Although their record shows a 3-4 season, this does not show the true value of the team. The main objective of the team was to give a boy valuable experience for the varsity and this is what it did as it gave juniors the experience they needed to compete on the varsity level.

The record shows two shutouts and one 34-6 romp over Griffith as the only victories. The two shutouts came against Highland 8-0 and Lowell 22-0, the first two games. The next game was a tough game to lose as the JV fell to Munster 9-6 on a field goal by Munster in the last minute and a half of the game. Crown Point was another tough defeat as the young Indians lost by only one touchdown 20-13. The remaining two losses came at the hands of Merrillville and Valparaiso. Valpo stomped the Indians 27-7. Coach Justak admitted that Valpo was the toughest team they played as their quarterback hit on a perfect 13 out of 13 passes.

For a team with personal changes every week the 3-4 season record is very impressive. Many of this years JV players will help to make next years varsity a better team.

Wright breaks passing record

Greg Siedelmann gets under another long pass from Rick Wright as Bob Bibich comes to give protection.

The '69 football season was a success in more ways than just the record. This was the season for one of Lake Central's and Dyer Central's records to fall, along with two boys being selected to the All-Conference first team.

Rick Wright, senior quarterback, set an all time passing record for the most touchdown passes in a year. Rick, who played for the first time since his sophomore year, broke the record set by Tom Freeman and Steve LaMar. The previous record was 11 TD passes. Rick threw his 12th touchdown in the final game against Merrillville. His main targets were seniors Bill Mista and Greg Siedelmann. Both caught passes for over 400 yards while catching five TD passes each.

Greg Siedelmann along with Bob Mundo gained conference recognition when they were selected for the All-Conference team. Greg was selected as one of the best ends in the conference while Mundo was a standout at tackle. These two were standouts for the Indians all year long, as Greg was selected MVP and Mundo finished second to Gary Massey in tackles.

Frosh complete unusual season

After taking a 8-6 win over Griffith the '69 freshmen football team found it hard going. The team suffered five straight loses before picking up another win. They finished with a 2-5 record.

The second game of the year was a tough battle but the little Indians came out on the short end of a 12-6 score. Merrillville was the next game and the Indians suffered their worst game and were beaten. This was one of the toughest games played by the team. Taft was the third team to defeat the little Indians, 26-20. Highland and Munster also picked up wins against the Indians, Highland by the score of 16-0 and Munster by the score of 18-16.

The team finished the season by defeating Lowell 26-12. This finished an unpredictable season for Coach Lemon and Coach Komara's team.

Senior tight end Greg Siedelmann pulls one in against Griffith for a sizeable gain.

Defeat closes Harrier season

Lacking in number and seniors, the Cross Country team suffered an unfortunate season. They finished the season with an 0-11 record and only six dedicated boys finished the season. From these six boys two were freshmen, one a sophomore, and three juniors.

Coach Kelsey had much praise for the six boys but hoped to get more boys interested in the sport. Cross Country is one of the least participated sports at LC. One of the reasons for the disinterest is the lack of fans. A meet may only draw from ten to fifteen people besides the runners themselves.

Although the team didn't win any meets they were always ready to go. The team, in a hope to improve themselves for next year, made plans to run at the Dunes during the summer to keep in shape.

This year the team selected Tony Harrison as the most valuable to the team and Bill Smith as captain. Tony won the MVP by placing first for LC in all the meets.

For the Lake Central Indian's varsity basketball squad, 1970 was without a doubt a year filled with unique happenings. The fighting Indians bounced back with a 12-12 season and the first Sectional Championship in the history of Lake Central and previous St. John township high schools. Boone Grove, Griffith, and finally mighty Crown Point fell victim as the hoopsters snared their first Sectional crown. The Indians eventually lost to Hammond Clark in the Gary West Regional.

A six game win streak was the highlight of the regular season and a first place trophy in the LC Holiday Tournament. The six teams knocked off were Griffith, Merrilliville, Hanover, Whiting, and the two tourney wins over Whiting and River Forest. Coach Tom Peyton used seven players with which to select a starting five and frequently called on his strong bench for support.

Rick Nigh led the squad in the free throw average and scoring department and was selected as the Most Valuable member of the team and also captain. Rick averaged 15.2 points per game and hit on 75% from the charity stripe. Younger brother, Terry Nigh, led the Indian rebounding corp with slightly over 11 per game. Junior Bill Smith sparkplugged the team with 84 assists. Reserve wingman, Dave Smith, won the Best Mental Attitude Award for his encouragement, drive, and determination in keeping team spirit alive.

Eight seniors, one junior, and three sophomores formed the nucleus for a squad which will always remain unique in the history of Lake Central sports.

JV ends season at 9-9 record

Gaining valuable experience for future years, Junior Varsity basketball members complied a 9-9 season record.

Under the guidance and supervision of Coach Al Pilarcik the sophomore and junior roundballers attained this record while playing most of the squad in each game. Learning to acquire the skills which a winning team must possess, the team experimented to see which players composed the best combination.

Experiencing a slow start, the squad dropped their first two games to Clark and Morton. A later game saw them formulating a victory against a tough Chesterton team. Griffith and Merrillville picked up victories against Lake Central, while the JV came back to clinch wins over Hanover and Whiting.

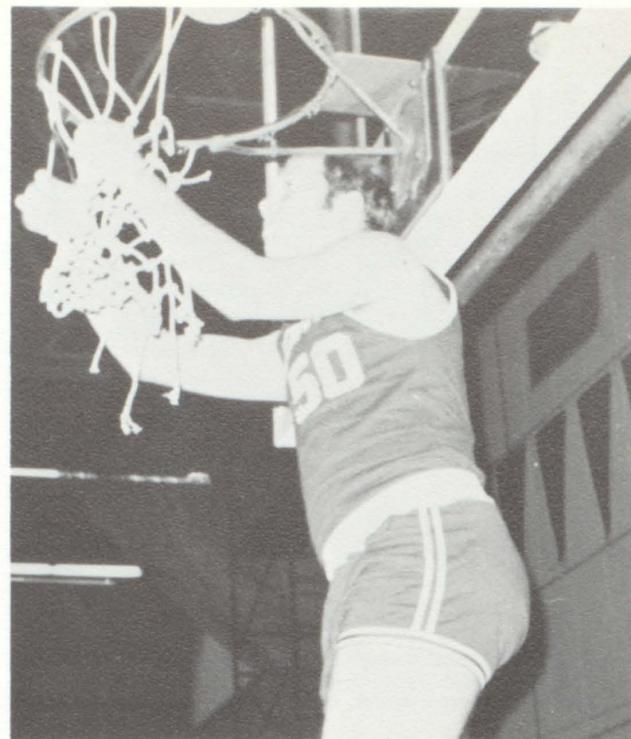

The remainder of the season focused on a 6-5 record as wins accumulated over East Gary, Wirt, Munster, Hobart, Calumet, and Hammond Tech.

Leading the young Indians for the majority of the year was junior Brad Moore. A 12 point average served to lead the team. Following Brad in scoring were John Pender and Jim Anderson.

Concluding the season with a 9-9 record, Junior Varsity roundballers anticipated next year, where they will put to use the experience they gained this year for Varsity competition.

Tense moments and tears of jubilation all pay off as LC won their first Sectional.

This is the ceremony that 12 boys and a coach waited for all year—net cutting. Bill McCullough takes his turn at obtaining a souvenir which will last forever.

LC clips 1st CP Sectional net

With only seconds remaining, Bill Smith hit a game winning basket to clinch a victory over Crown Point 50-48. But the basket did not merely win a game, it won a Sectional title—the first Sectional title ever for a school in St. John Township.

A flurry of action followed the game winning basket. The traditional picture taking, net cutting, and presentation of the Sectional trophy were all things that 12 boys and a coach had worked for and which had finally become a reality.

Before getting to Crown Point in the championship game, LC knocked off Boone Grove by the score of 98-79. This game saw Bill Smith score 32 points; in three games he scored 66 points. Griffith and Crown Point were then overthrown to capture the title.

Frosh make unexpected victory

Finishing with a 14-14 A and B team record the freshman basketball team came up with one big surprise. The A team finished with a 9-8 record and the B team registered a 5-6 season. The unexpected win came in the Taft Invitational Tourney.

After having been beaten by both Taft and Merrillville during regular season play, the young Indians came back to beat both and take home the tourney trophy. This proved to be the most outstanding accomplishment for the freshmen.

The A team recorded victories against Hammond Tech, Lowell, Hanover Central, Whiting, Gavit, and Highland.

M. Buchler, R. Sidwell, H. O'Hare, G. Peters, A. Bombersback. The team finished with a 5-6 season record.

Austgen, A. Bombersback, Coach Wood. The team finished in a tie with Merrillville for the championship.

Lake golfers tie for crown

With seven returning golfers the 1970 golf team finished in a two team tie for the Calumet Conference title. LC was beaten by Merrillville by one stroke which cost LC the tie with Merrillville.

Under a new coach, Dick Wood, the golfers responded with a 13-9 record. They finished tenth in the big Lake Hills Invitational and a fifth place finish in Sectionals with a 372. The team was composed of four juniors, three sophomores, and two frosh.

Under the new head coach, Mr. Ed Wietcha, the LC grapplers maintained a season of excellence. With three returning seniors serving as a backbone, Wietcha molded a team which finished with an 11-3 record, the best ever attained in LC history.

Their biggest victory of the year came with a 41-13 victory over Merrillville while strong Highland, Chesterton, and Gavit teams managed to down the Indians.

With determination and confidence, the matmen entered the CP sectionals. While relinquishing their 1969 sectional crown to a tough Crown Point team, the Indians finished an impressive second. Three varsity matmen took individual honors and continued on to the regionals. Mark Schnaith, 101 pounds, obtained a season record of 6-2-2, and placed second at the regionals while Mike Gibson, 148 pounds, placed fourth with an average season record of 11-2. Bob Winebrenner placed a respectable second in the regional contest after completing a 10-1-2 season. Other wrestling records were: Bob Ernst 5-4, Jerry Craven 6-6-1, Bob Herrman 3-9-1, Bill Engle 5-6, Paul Hayes 4-4-2, Gary Massey 4-3, Jim Funderlic 7-3-3, Steve Siwinski 8-5, and Steve Turpin 7-5-1. Mr. Bob Komara, teacher at Kahler, came over to help coach the winning team.

Matman Bill Engle gets ready for a takedown during a victorious meet against Griffith which ended in a 25-23 score.

'70 thinclads

surpass times, skills of past

Underclassmen dominated the track squad in 1970 and competed on the varsity level as a massive rebuilding program was started. Coaches Bob Kelsey and Nick Lemon recruited from the freshmen and sophomore ranks as the three month season got underway.

The varsity team lost all meets as only two senior lettermen anchored the squad. One bright spot was the varsity half-mile relay team, composed of Mike Pavell, Ed Levine, Kevin Fox, and Greg Siedelman, which set a new school record of 1:34.4.

Freshmen thinclads broke numerous records during the season. Bob White ran the 60 yard dash in 7.02, while Mike Pavell tied the 11.0 record for the 100 yard dash. Flying over the 60 yard low hurdles at 9.2 were Terry Smith and Mike Shingler.

Jumping higher than in the past, Paul Hayes reached the height of 10' 6" while pole vaulting. The freshman six-lap relay team, Mike Pavell, Bob White, Tim Senzig, and Terry Smith, was timed at 2:09.1.

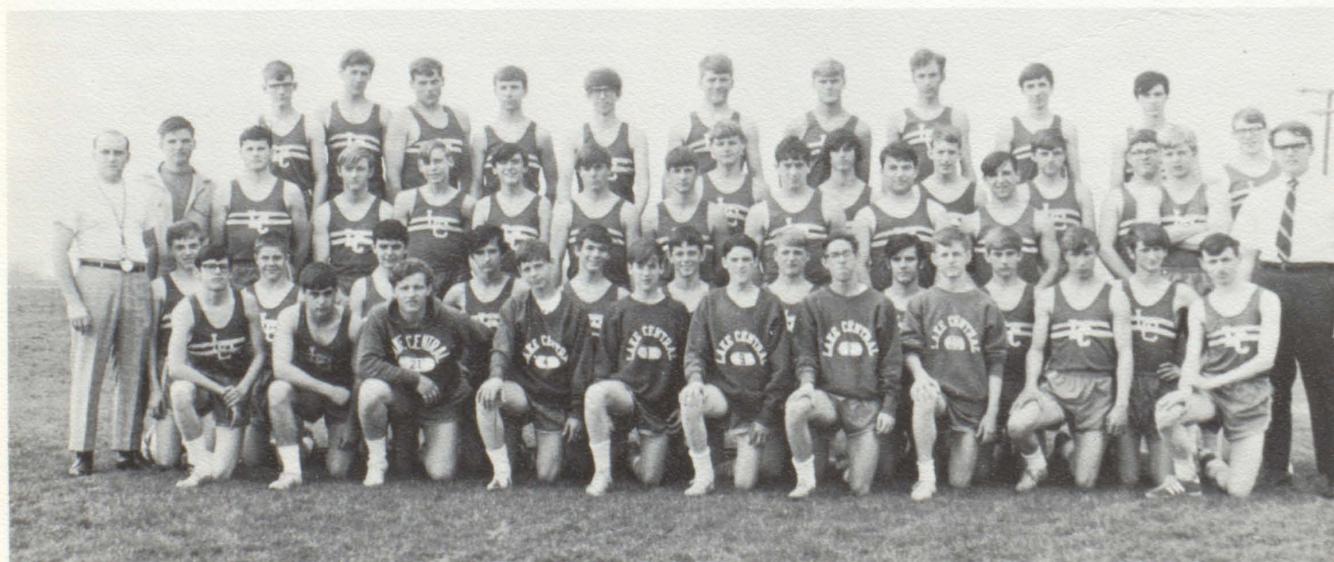

Herm Hoge represented the team as he placed first in conference and Sectionals in long jump.

Tiring practice was very important to Herm Hoge as he strived to improve his skill and distance in the long jump. Being a conference and Sectional winner, he was allowed to compete in Regionals.

Head Coach Kelsey and Assistant Coach Lemon check the time as they keep the team constantly seeking improvement.

The half-mile relay team, consisting of Ed LeVine, Mike Pavell, Greg Siedelmann, and Kevin Fox were the only varsity track team members to break a record this year.

Varsity dominated by 11 seniors

The 1970 baseball season was quite unique in the fact that the team had 11 senior diamondmen. The Indians had veteran players at every position with some positions having two seasoned players.

The Indians did meet with disappointment though as they finished with an overall record of 5-8 and a conference record of 5-5. The Indians found the going tough as they lost four games by less than two runs.

The leading hitter for LC was Dave Smith followed by Bob Bibich and Bill McCulloch.

'70 welcomes new JV coach

Numerous changes highlighted the 1970 season in JV and freshman baseball. This was the first year that the two teams were separate with individual coaches. Under Coach Ossanna the freshmen displayed good hitting and pitching to end a 4-3 season.

The JV, under Coach Justak's guidance, finished with a 4-4 season. They defeated such powerhouses as EC Roosevelt, Bishop Noll, Crown Point, and Munster. Carey Govert and Dale Johnson carried most of the pitching chores for the team.

Third baseman Dave Smith handles a hot shot to third in a game against Portage which LC won in extra innings.

A familiar Football play seen often throughout the season is re-enacted by the 1969-70 varsity cheerleaders: Nancy Krol, Jill Kasper, Sharon Ladd, Captain-Mascot Patti Blaize, and Phyllis Fanolla.

A hopeful smile from Sharon Ladd characterizes the prevailing spirit of the school through both victory and defeat.

Nancy Krol releases a burst of enthusiasm as the Indians retire to the locker room after a favorable first half.

Pep, enthusiasm guide squads

This year the junior varsity cheerleaders Chris Spragia, Deb Stanger, Donna Peters, and Jen Kasper strove to increase the amount of team spirit in underclassmen.

Junior varsity cheerleader Donna Peters smiles exuberantly as she welcomes the varsity basketball team onto the floor.

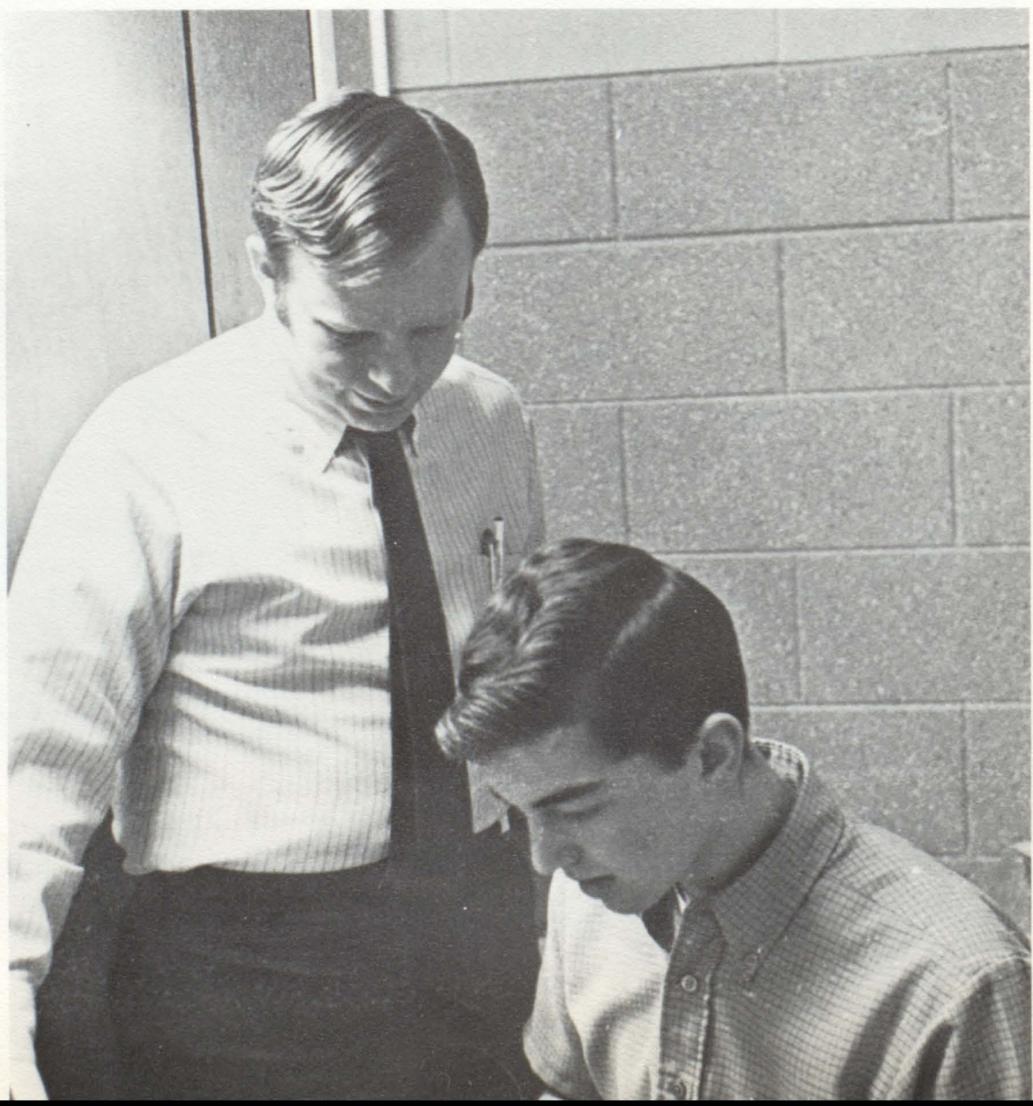

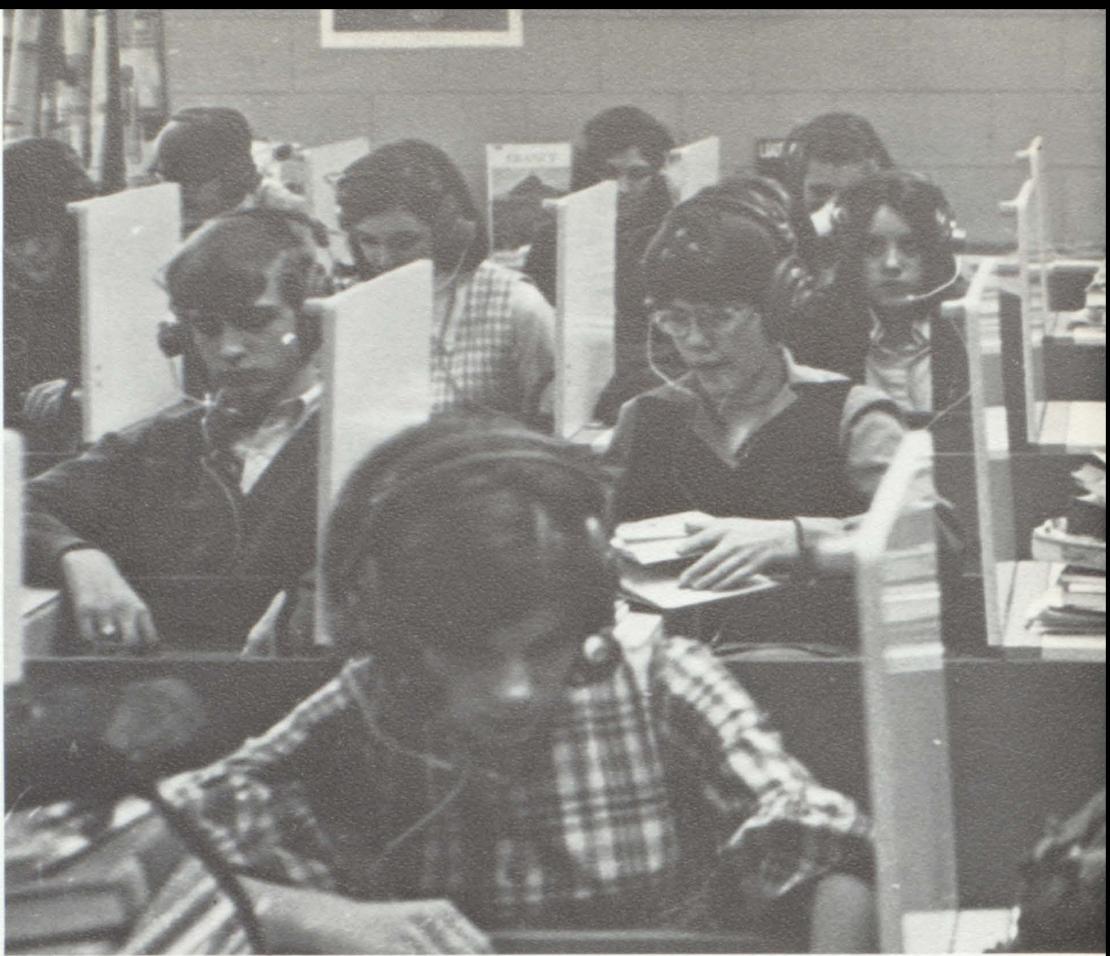

As the 1969-70 school year progressed, the thirteen members of the various cheerleading squads of Lake Central continued to make their presence known to all members of the student body. All three squads decorated halls and lockers, building up pride in the school's team and spirit.

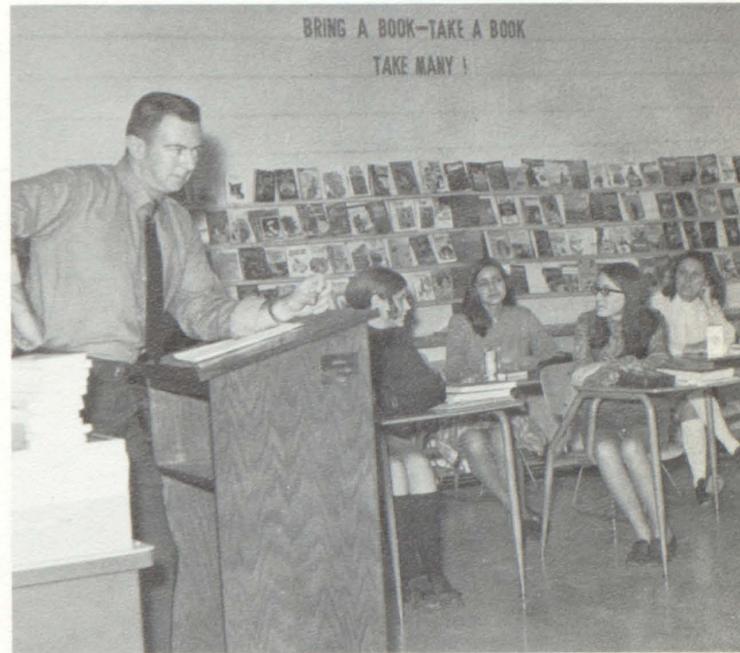

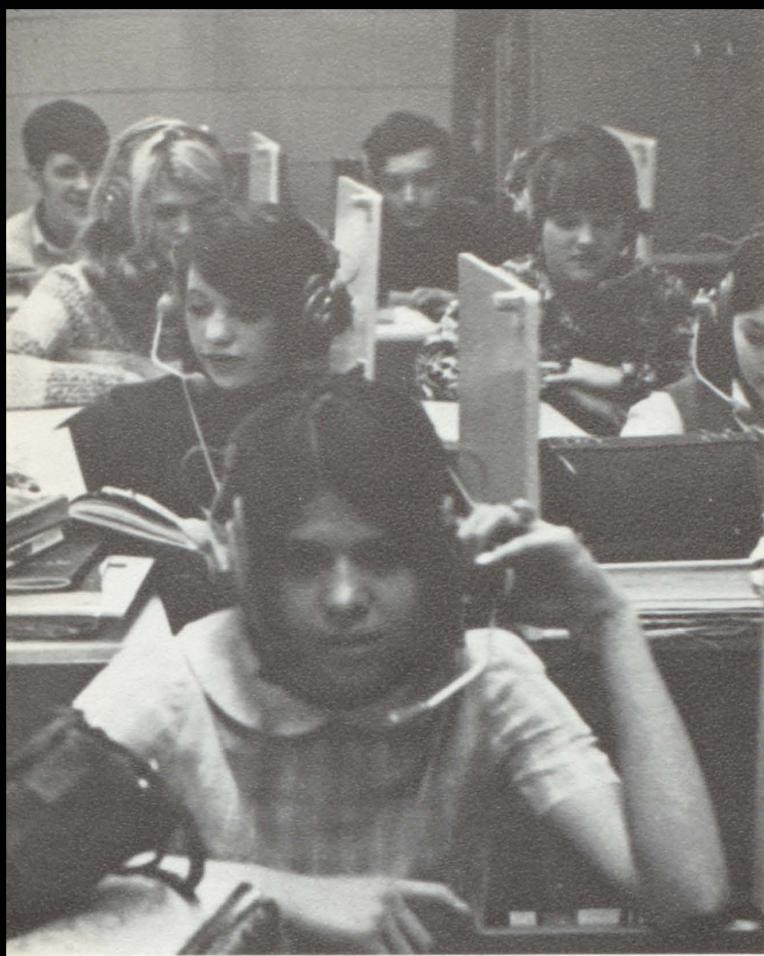

The varsity and junior varsity squads were again successful in capturing the coveted spirit stick at summer cheerleading camp. Once back in school they proceeded to transform the style of cheering from the former "wordy" cheers to the newer short and simple style.

The Freshman Cheerleading squad was also successful in boosting freshmen spirit. They proved this by winning the first place cheering trophy in their basketball tournament. Another unique point was that they were the first squad to have a new and different "floating captain."

Freshmen cheerleaders Renee LaMantia, Kathy Manes, Deb Pasternak, and Mary Krol celebrated a basketball tournament trophy for their outstanding cheering block.

Academics

The complexity of the world in 1970 brought additional strains on Academics. Seventeen new teachers completed a faculty of 70 who worked to bridge the gap between the student and the outside world by offering him the best possible education. The agonizing first attempt at speaking a new but foreign language became a challenge for students is the language lab. Understanding works by Chaucer and Shakespeare were goals set for English students. Computer programming students realized future needs for their education in college. In Academics, the new ideas and concepts of learning made a year for the Indians of Lake Central which was UNIQUELY '70

Board develops school policies

Devoted to the improvement of education and solving the problems of a complex school corporation are the responsibilities of the Lake Central School Board. These five members meet every other Monday with the chief administrators to settle issues, employ personnel, approve purchases, establish policies, and assist in the smooth functioning of six modern schools.

The five member board investigated, with community and faculty committees, the possibility of an extended school year. Quarter systems, tri-mesters, and various plans were observed in action as a solution was sought to better use the physical facilities now available in the high school and to help alleviate the overcrowding which will occur in future years.

Checking through the files at the Central Office is Mr. George Bibich, superintendent for the Lake Central School System.

The duties of secretary of the school board are fulfilled by Mrs. Joyce Ellis. Her job consists of keeping accurate records of all school board meetings.

President of the School Board, Dr. Richard C. Blaney, takes a few minutes to skim through the books in LC's library.

Members of the 1970 School Board are Mr. William Graham, Mr. Bernie Jostes, Dr. Richard Blaney, Mrs. Joyce Ellis, Mr. Harry M.

Discussing current issues concerning the Lake Central School Corporation are Mr. George Bibich and Dr. Richard Blaney.

Mr. James Watson, business manager of the School Corporation enjoys working and browsing in his scenic lawn when not occupied with matters concerning the corporation.

Howarth, and Superintendent George Bibich. These board members confer on all problems confronting the school corporation.

Preparing for another day at work, Mr. Don Guilford, personnel director, arrives at the Central Office.

Administration

Besides working on student and administrative levels, Principal Fred W. Jones finds time to enjoy the simple pleasures of life with his children.

Showing home movies proves an interesting pastime for Assistant Principal Glen Eberly. School days find him sponsoring the Student Council and planning summer school activities.

conducts Lake Central activity

The core of all activity at Lake Central spreads from the heart of the school: the central office. Each morning a new form of pandemonium breaks forth as Mr. McKee listens to sad tales of woe as students constantly find new and unusual reasons for absenteeism. The secretaries and office girls seem to never tire of answering the dozens of phone calls, taking last minute announcements, and helping students find lost books, sweaters, and gym shoes.

The brain power behind all of this activity is headed by Principal Fred Jones and Assistant Principal Glen Eberly. There are no routine days for LC administrators as new challenges are accepted and conquered each day. Solving student problems in regard to dress codes, early graduation, loss of credits, disciplinary actions, and a score of supposedly pressing matters are handled daily. Efficient operation of building and staff are a must for every top notch school and the administration uses the faculty and staff to form a winning team.

The school day and office do not close the doors at 3 p.m., but remain open as a myriad of extra-curricular and evening activities get underway, rounding out a typical high school day.

Aids to Mr. McKee are FRONT ROW: K. Zientara, G. Campbell, D. Caldwell, D. Shotts. BACK ROW: C. Hartley, M. Michael, Mr. Lee McKee, S. Koslovsky, S. Cooke.

Attendance Director, Mr. Lee McKee spends much of his spare time drawing and painting. He also serves LC as an art instructor, teaching Introductory Art and Commercial Art.

When not administering to student needs, nurse Mrs. Robinette Probasco uses free time to further her sewing abilities.

LC students rely on counselors

As students mature they find it necessary to make adjustments to the changing world around them. These adjustments from adolescence to adulthood are made slightly easier through the help of the guidance counselors.

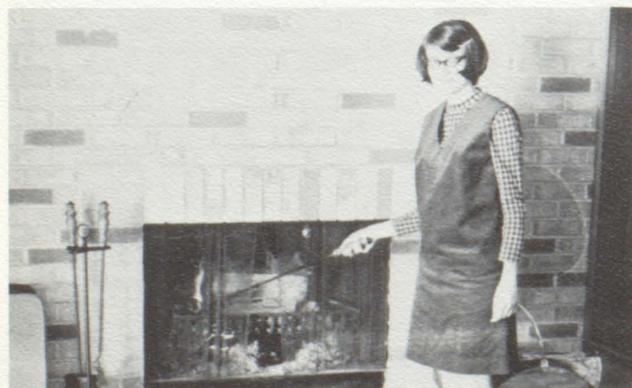

Whenever this help is needed, the counselors, Mrs. Jean Wease, Mrs. Marcella Stecyk, Mr. Robert Mygrants, and Mr. Edward McLaughlin, are always ready to assist in every possible way; plans which are essential for a successful future.

Each student is an individual and therefore he is treated as such. With graduation drawing near, the students look to the counselors for help in making plans for college and future careers.

Besides the guidance office, another source of information and knowledge is the school library. Here vast quantities of books, magazines and pamphlets can be found. Miss Kathy Arbuckle, director of libraries for the school system is assisted this year at Lake Central by librarian Mrs. Joan Osburn.

Being head librarian and Pep Club sponsor takes up most of Miss Kathy Arbuckle's time. While at home Miss Arbuckle enjoys to relax with a good book.

Relaxing by a crackling-hot fire is a delightful experience for Assistant Librarian Mrs. Joan Osburn.

Homelife provides an escape from school pressures as Mrs. Jean Wease, Guidance Department Head becomes engrossed in playing the organ during her spare hours.

Bowling adds vitality to the out-of-school hours for guidance counselor Mrs. Marcella Stecyk as she departs for an entertaining evening at a nearby bowling alley.

The exhilaration of a snowball fight on a crisp wintery day is magnified by guidance counselor Mr. Edward McLaughlin.

Guidance counselor, Mr. Robert Mygrants enjoys after-school hours by creating tasty home-cooked meals.

Library aids are FRONT ROW: B. Felton, J. Hite, J. Vaughn, N. Eddy, K. Oxenreiter. SECOND ROW: L. Potts, B. Schelfo, K. Ludwig, D. Hooper, D. Hoffman, C. Neibling, C. Neyhart, S. Gilliam, L. Manny. BACK ROW: G. Graves, J. Lapina, M. Norris, L. Walters, S. Koepl, Miss Arbuckle, Mrs. Osburn, T. Morris, M. Miller, J. Olson, J. Kasper, C. Spragia, C. Cooke, D. Qualkinbush.

Answering phone calls, typing and filing reports, are but a few of the duties of Mrs. Kay Trapp, executive secretary-treasurer.

Mrs. Leona Fiegle, bookkeeper in the Central Office, is in charge of keeping the master set of corporation books balanced.

LC secretaries

Administrative secretaries in the Central Office are of great importance to the Lake Central School Corporation. Each and every student is affected indirectly by the work performed by these secretaries. They perform such duties as keeping the master set of corporation books balanced, writing all payroll checks, and filing reports.

The secretaries at Lake Central form a direct relationship with the students as they carry on all the business matters of the school and provide aid to the students. Filing state reports, keeping records of club and organization funds, typing business letters, and taking phone calls are but a few of the various responsibilities which a school secretary faces every day.

Writing all payroll checks and keeping financial records is Mrs. Nyeita Smith, central office payroll clerk.

Personnel Secretary, Mrs. Helen Denison is in charge of keeping records of all the employees in the school corporation. She also keeps files of the employees' credentials.

Watching television proves to be a means of peaceful repose for WCAE secretary Mrs. Vena Perrings.

offer students assistance, aid

Family duties and responsibilities fill leisure time for Extra-Curricular Treasurer Mrs. Barbara Purdy.

Music plays a special role in the spare time of Mrs. Joyce Kerns. Serving as library secretary fills her school hours.

Guidance department secretary Mrs. Lorraine Warmelink proudly displays the results of her favorite hobby—bowling.

Mrs. Marie Wein settles down to catch up on all of the latest home and fashion news. Students recognize her as the general office secretary, assisting Mr. Jones and Mr. Eberly.

Television aids are FRONT ROW: T. Cole, S. Cash. SECOND ROW: R. Demack, C. Christ, B. Courtright, K. Beasley, B. Baker.

WCAE viewing area increases

Dave Sims, host of WCAE provocative talk show "Viewpoint" discusses current issues with Congressman Landgrebe.

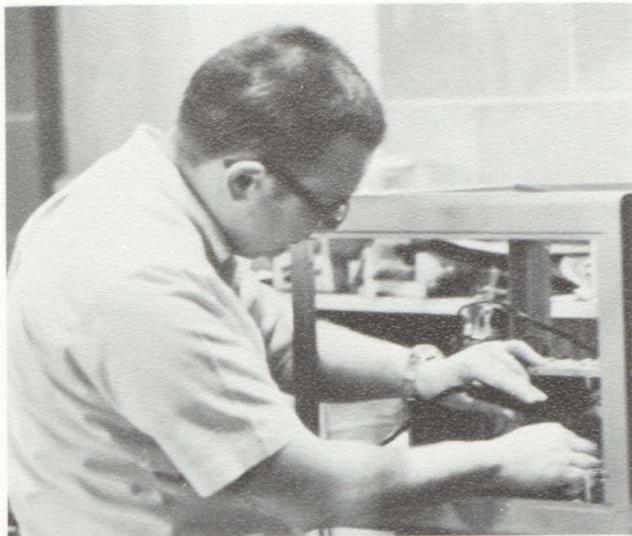

WCAE television now operates two TV stations throughout the area. Besides Channel 50, which serves most of Northwest Indiana, a booster station has been added to the system therefore expanding the viewing area. A translator for WCAE has been placed atop the Gary National Bank and beams the Channel 50 signal to the entire Gary area expanding coverage to over 30,000 additional homes.

Exposition to programs of culture, intellect and religion, along with entertainment, are just a few of the functions of this television station.

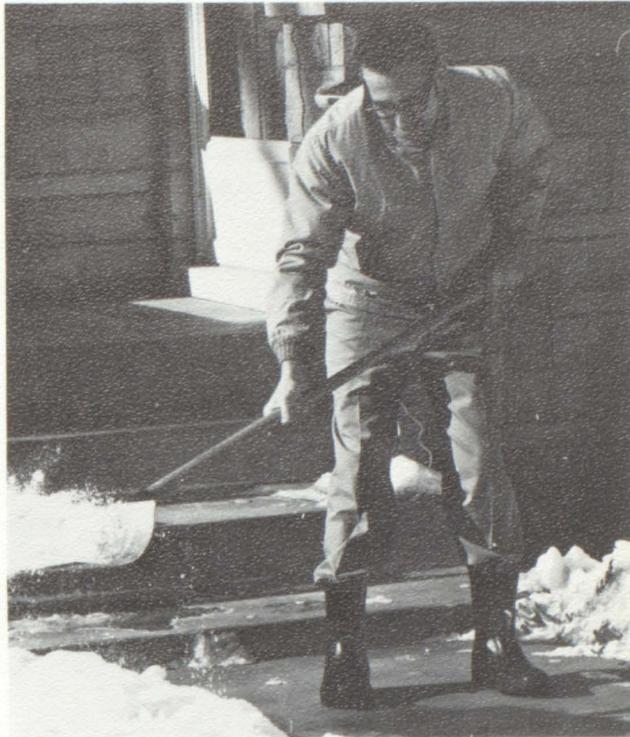

WCAE-TV Channel 50-72 is a non-profit organization. It is supported by a combination of private contributions and station memberships. Also WCAE, for the first time, held an auction in the Lake Central Fieldhouse.

Students who serve as TV aids are an important asset to the station. The TV Technician class which is offered at LC creates interest in this field.

WCAE faculty directs programs

WCAE Technical Director Mr. James Sheetz finds that combining work and leisure activities can be very rewarding. Here he contemplates over some TV equipment.

Shoveling snow seemed to occupy much of Mr. Lou Iaconetti's spare time this winter. Besides being WCAE-TV Director, Mr. Iaconetti also teaches the TV Technician class.

Mr. Carl Yates, in charge of WCAE Public Relations, can often be found at home working around the yard. Here he is seen readying his tractor for the snowy months ahead.

Serving as TV Programming Director for WCAE, Mr. Ted Lucas spends most of his time in the TV studio. Family life provides a welcome break in his busy schedule.

Computer stresses math skills

Jumbles of numbers, symbols, and equations sent many students' minds spinning as LC's Mathematics Department strove to prepare students for future careers. Puzzling theorems and postulates began to take on a new meaning as teachers applied these "basics" to modern careers such as nursing, engineering, and teaching.

Peering through the door of a math room, passersby might observe algebra students tackling quadratic equations and logarithms or geometry students laboring diligently over the construction of a 45 degree angle and the solving of a baffling proof.

Computer technology met with a growing curriculum in '70 with the addition of a second teletype.

Through the various course offerings, students were able to prepare well for future occupations.

Mr. Ed Walter succumbs to the tranquility of his home after the completion of another hard day. He instructs students in geometry and Computer Programming.

Doug Edwards, a student in Mr. Walter's Computer Programming class, types out his program to the new Univac 1108.

Geometry and Algebra I instructor Mr. Duane Koets delights in treating his family to many weekend camping trips.

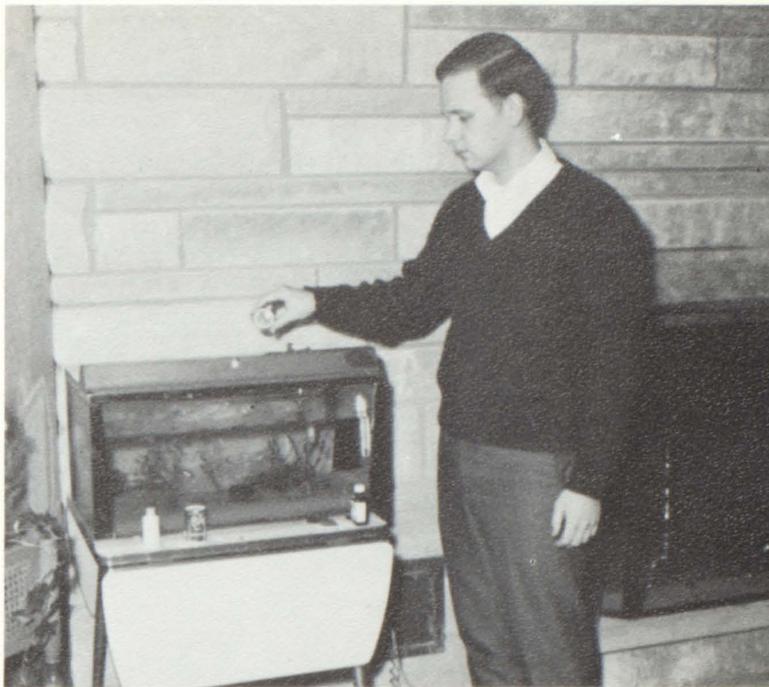

Playing bridge became a favorite leisure activity this year for Mrs. Karon Bailey as she organized a new bridge club. School hours find her teaching Advanced Math and Algebra II.

On the completion of another day of teaching Algebra I and Freshman Math, Mr. Seral Warren advances to the LC parking lot.

Taking the place of Mrs. Joy Shaddick as Algebra I teacher is Mrs. Barbara Stedge. Whenever spare time can be found, Mrs. Stedge spends it at home with her family.

One of Lake's 17 new teachers, Mr. Stuart Bernthal instructs classes in Plane Geometry and Freshman Math. Caring for a tank full of tropical fish adds variety to his teaching schedule.

Gardening provides a welcomed change of pace for physics and Vocational Math instructor Mr. Kermit Kerns. Possessing the title of Athletic Business Manager also keeps him busy.

Lake science staff greets '70

Mr. Paul Mehling takes a little time out to feed his parakeet. His school hours are spent teaching Life Science and BSCS.

Mr. Ron Graham can be found duck hunting on snowy Saturdays. He teaches Algebra I, Practical, and Scientific Chemistry.

Dissecting a cat proves to be one of the most important projects of the year for BSCS students Bernie Kellar and Jack Clark.

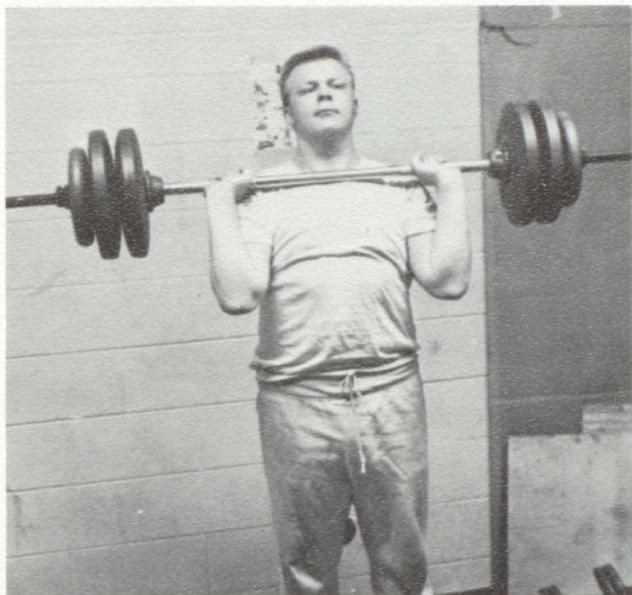

Life Science and IPS teacher, Mr. Dave Szymanski, chooses a pipe from his large collection and proceeds to fill it.

with expansion

The Science Department this year became one of the most advanced areas at Lake Central with their new approach to a means of teaching—the laboratory approach to scientific research.

Mr. Graham held a special Ecology Unit with Dr. Wilson of Purdue University as a guest speaker lecturing on the aspects of pollution. For the first time, BSCS classes incubated eggs as a special project. Independent study and programmed learning became part of the new audio-tutorial program. Phil Krieter and Kris DeYoung won top honors at the regional science fair. Above all, Mr. Keith Perry was named one of the four best Biology teachers in the state of Indiana.

New to Lake's science department, IPS instructor Mr. Harlan Abraham also enjoys a good workout with the barbells.

Selected one of the four best biology teachers in Indiana, Mr. Keith Perry takes time for a fast cup of coffee. Besides heading LC's science department, Mr. Perry sponsors the MPC.

Mr. Larry Mayhew straps himself in before starting his race car. His LC duties include teaching Life Science and IPS.

Pam Postema and Carol Nagy practice the proper techniques of weighing a substance on the bead balance in IPS class.

Kuzma, Wood

With rifle in hand and dog at side Mr. John Linley, Vocational Drafting teacher, is ready to go hunting.

Machine Shop teacher Mr. Les Milby, takes a break from his busy schedule, including sports announcing for WCAE and sponsoring the Letterman's Club, for a moment of relaxation.

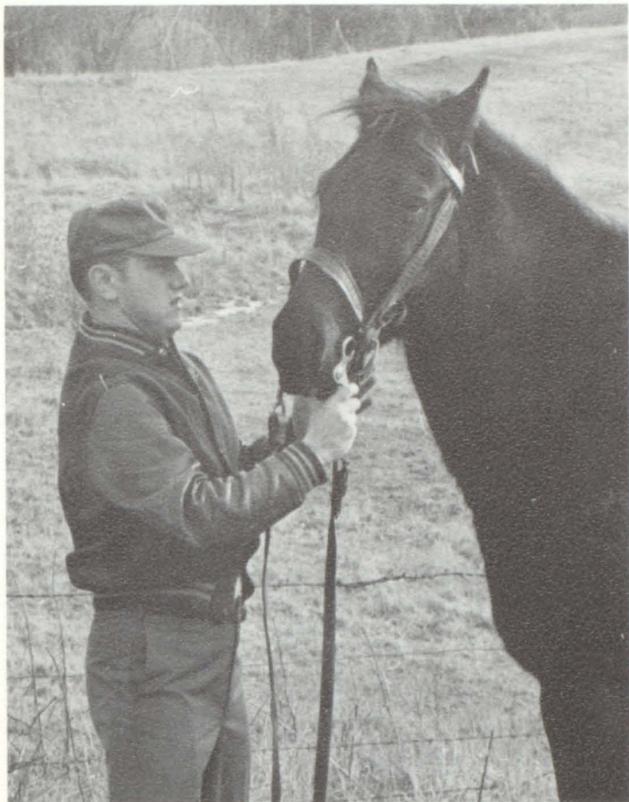

Vocational Auto Shop teacher, Mr. Edward Kuzma, watches over Drew Mantel as he prepares to adjust the carburetor in his auto.

Getting some spring planting in is Mr. Russ Tomjanovich. He teaches Vocational Carpentry and Wood II while at Lake Central.

complete shop teaching team

Teaching Vocational Graphics and Drafting I & II fill Mr. Robert Kelsey's school hours. While at home, "Hershey", his thoroughbred horse occupies much of Mr. Kelsey's spare time.

Mr. Lester Eggers, Wood Shop I teacher, proudly displays his favorite rifle from his antique gun collection.

Lake Central experienced two new additions to the Industrial Education Department this year. After teaching for seven years at Crown Point High School, Mr. Wood joined the LC faculty as a "wood" specialist and taught three different classes in the shop wing. The second new staff member was Mr. Kuzma who became the only full time vocational instructor in the Industrial Education Department.

The Graphics Department this year became one of the most serviceable areas at Lake Central. Not only did they print report cards and play programs, but printed their own teacher's wedding invitations.

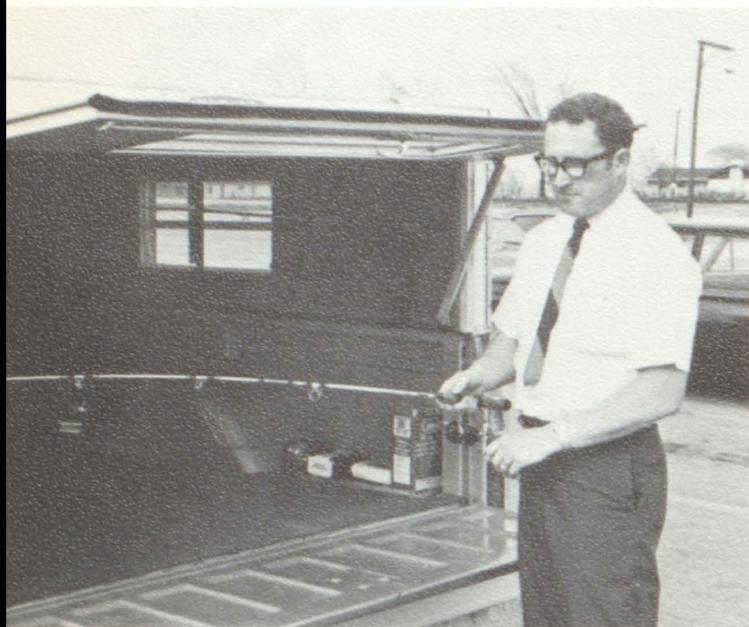

Grease and grime doesn't bother Paul Schelfo and Kim Terminy as they adjust the valves on their car engine.

"Strummin' on his ol' banjo" is Mr. Richard Wood. School hours find him teaching the Vocational Education classes.

Social studies appraise history

In hopes of catching another five pound bass, Mr. Larry Cunningham anticipates returning to Walleye fishing country. In the classroom he teaches students government and U.S. History.

Teaching U.S. History, economics, and sponsoring the Honor Society occupies Mr. Lee Paris' time while at school. All spare time at home is now consumed by his new son Brent Lee.

Searching for better communication between social study teaching and current issues affecting our earth was the goal of this years Social Studies Department.

Eleven paperback books were used in US History classes which covered present controversial issues such as religious freedom, racial problems, immigrant treatment, law suits, civil war within America, Nazi Germany, and organized labor. These new booklets centered on the issues rather than the old, traditional facts of United States History.

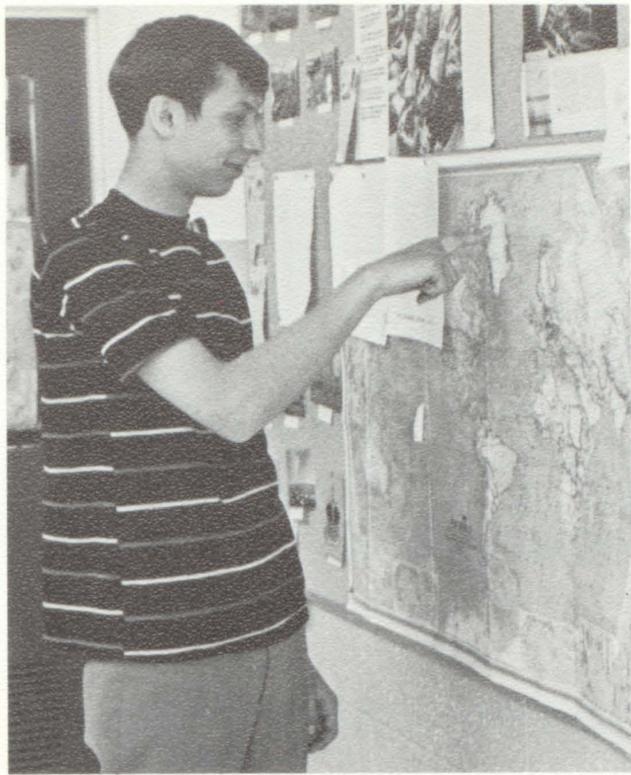

Have you ever tried tracing stars in a mirror? It became a frustrating task for psychology students. Experiments in learning were performed through trial and error evaluation in deciding whether mass or distributed learning was more effective.

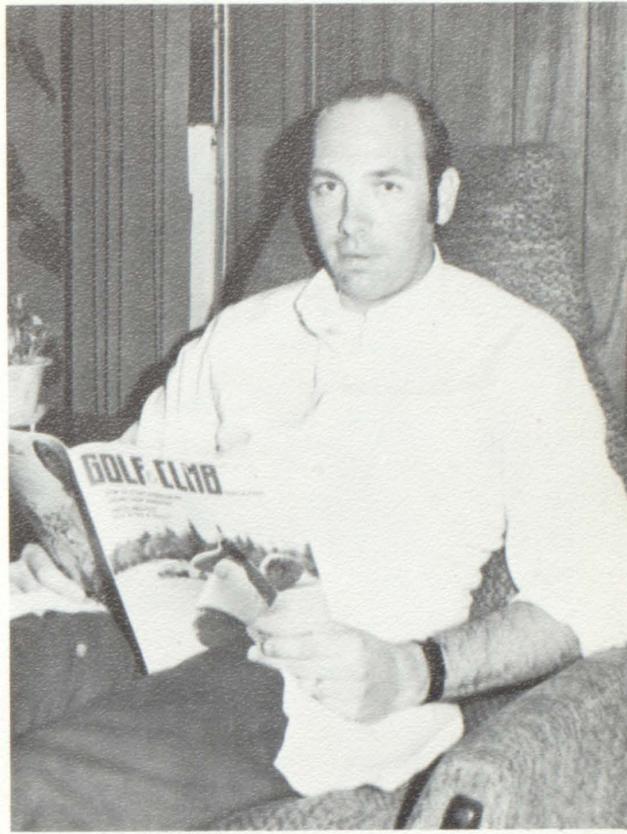

Mr. Randy Fenters, new on the staff this year, teaches U.S. and World History, besides proudly showing off his "bundle of joy".

Taking time out to sit back and relax is Mr. Leo Bereolos who teaches government and economics at Lake Central.

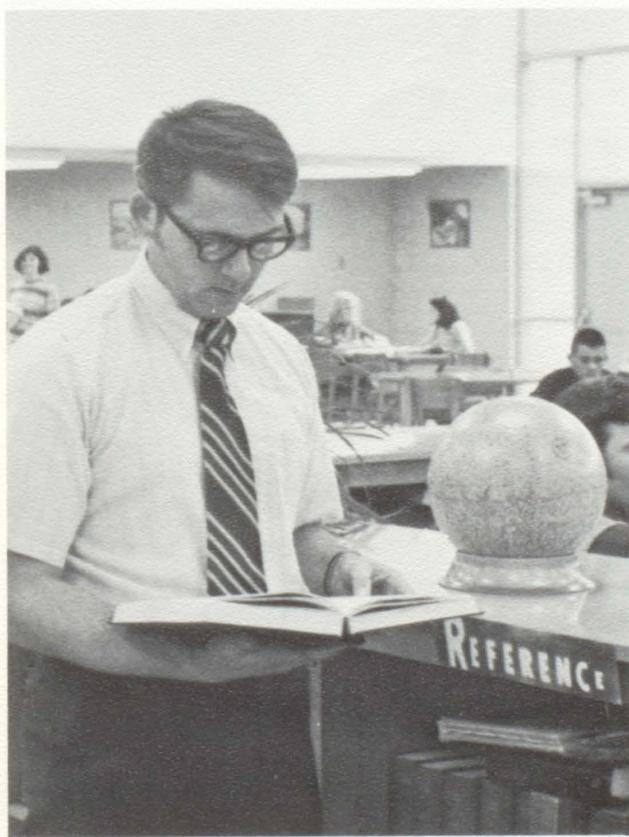

Geography student Dennis Snearley, points out important locations on the World Map to his fellow classmates.

Sociology, citizenship, and geography teacher, Mr. Tom Blad, finds time to sit back and relax in his easy chair and read one of his favorite magazines the "Golf and Club."

Assistant coach of the track team, Mr. Nick Lemon, checks the reference books in the library for research information. New to the staff this year, he teaches sociology and psychology.

After the viewing of a U.S. History film, students intently listen as Mr. Lee Paris brings important points to mind.

Mrs. Carole Selund, English I and Spanish II teacher, prepares for a Spanish lesson in the language lab.

Language students Laura McPhillips, Regina Watson, Jan Stolarz, and Carey Govert find that studying a foreign language can lead to

Languages stress basic "tools"

Emphasizing the basic "tools" of speaking, writing, and understanding, foreign language instructors strove to make learning fun and challenging.

Abandoning the textbook for the first six weeks, Spanish teachers placed a special stress on the audio-lingual approach to learning.

Teaching in French became a frustration for French IV students as they attempted to teach their language to French I students.

German III students were required to write essays and criticisms of stories they had read, while Latin students modeled a city block of old Pompeii.

Comprehension became somewhat less tedious through the use of records, tapes, movies, and novels.

At the close of another day of school at LC, Mr. Sam Sharp prepares for his departure home. His school duties include instructing World History and Latin I and II.

Devoted to LC and its students, Mrs. Angela Lowe assists the juniors with prom decorations. When not teaching French, Mrs. Lowe sponsors the senior class, French Club, and Thespians.

CAREERS

a career. The idea of further study in another land encourages them to seek knowledge of customs through posters.

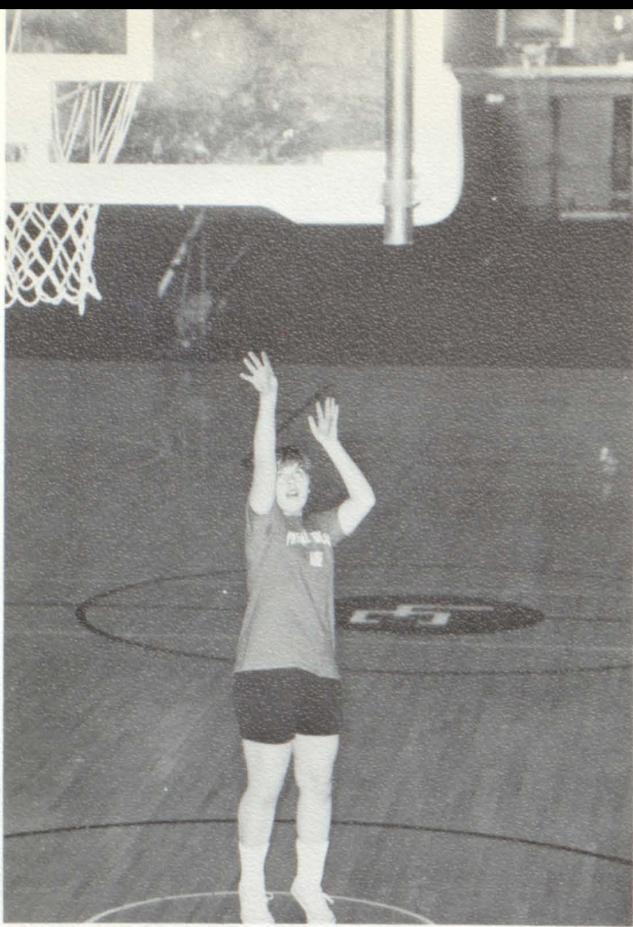

Spanish student George Niebling listens intently before venturing an answer to a puzzling question in a Spanish lab session.

Teaching German I, II, III, and IV, Mr. Mike Hensley enjoys riding on his motorcycle. He is also German Club sponsor.

Mr. Al Smith teaches not only grammar in his Spanish I and III classes but also the geographical locations and customs of various Spanish speaking countries. He also sponsors the Spanish Club.

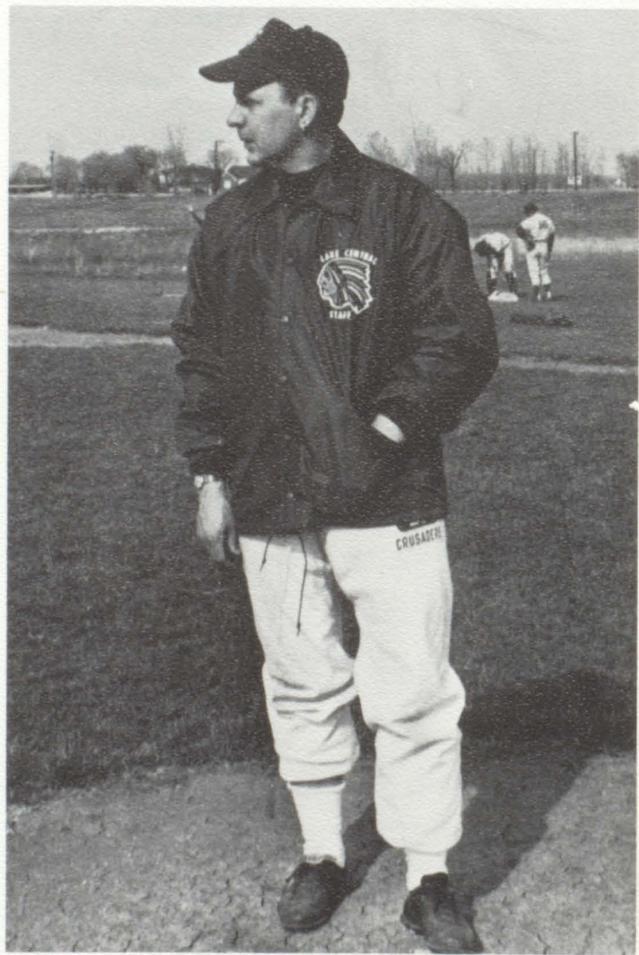

Illustrating the proper method of shooting a basket to the Girls Physical Education classes is Terri Williams, P.E. aide.

Autumn months find varsity basketball coach Tom Peyton toiling over fallen leaves. In-school hours find him instructing students in Health and Physical Education.

Mrs. Sandra Peters referees a girl's field hockey game. Her school duties include teaching Girls Physical Education and sponsoring the Girls Athletic Association.

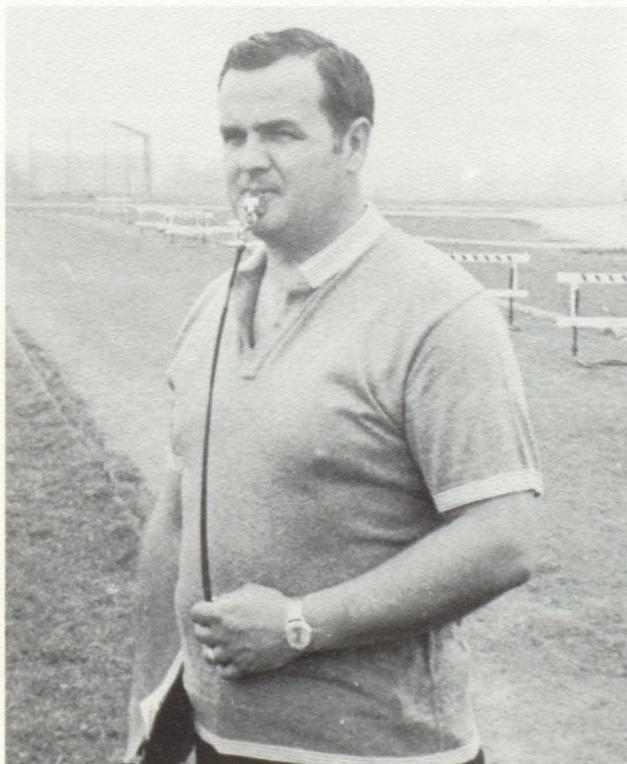

Sports constitute a large portion of the life of varsity baseball and junior varsity basketball coach Al Pilarcik. He may also be seen teaching Health and Physical Education.

PE classes stress skills, sports

Varsity football coach Hal Traviolia delights in spending free time at home with his two sons. Besides serving as LC's Athletic Director, he instructs students in Physical Education.

Flying arrows and runaway bowling balls became new frustrations for the Physical Education Department at Lake Central this year. With the addition of four new sports, PE students were taught skills in a variety of athletic games.

Rope climbing became a treat for the Boy's Advanced PE classes as they made their way up the braided hemp toward the fieldhouse ceiling. Bowling and archery were taught as individual sports that could be used in later life. Combining the sports of hockey, football, and soccer, the Girls' PE classes raced on the football field with their wooden sticks to make a goal for their field hockey teams.

Freshman Debbie Gayda leaps high into the air in order to clear one of the high hurdles during a timed skill test.

Wrestling Coach, Mr. Edwin Weitecha, also instructs students at Lake Central in Health and Boys Physical Education.

Those students who plan to take a secretarial course at Lake Central find their starting point in a Typing 1A class. Here they learn the basics of typing which prepares the student for the more advanced classes they will be taking in future years.

Swift fingers punch keyboards

Outside activities spark the life of bookkeeping instructor Mr. Buren Hooper as he steps out of his car after a relaxing day. His school time centers around heading the Business Staff.

Beginning with their freshmen year, the students of Lake Central start with their first class of typing. Sophomores may go on with the typing classes and adding to their curriculum would be bookkeeping or a general business class.

As juniors a business machines or business law course can be taken to broaden their knowledge in the business field.

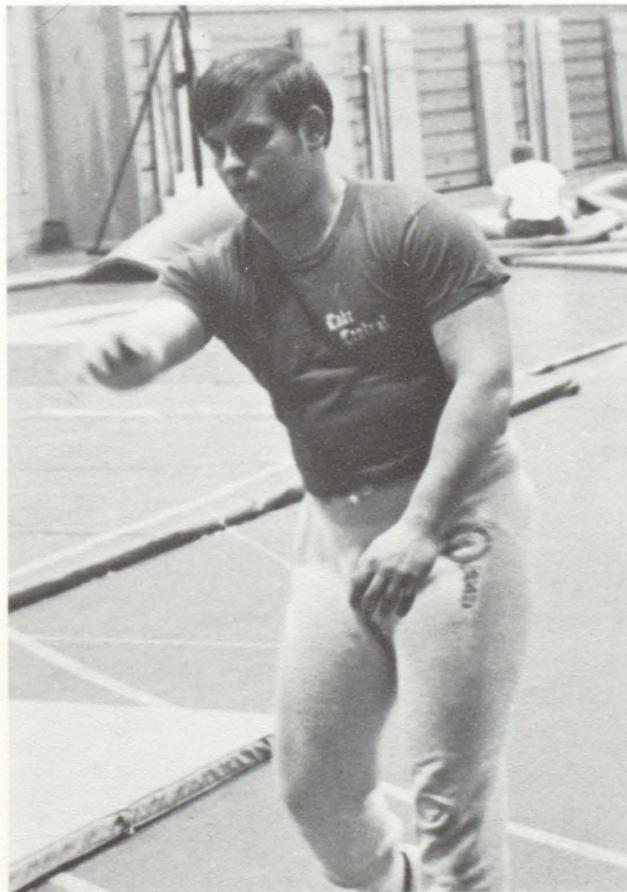

During their senior year, many girls who plan to become secretaries take the three hour secretarial lab where they work in a business like atmosphere.

Miss Jennifer Smith, a new member of the business department faculty, proudly displays a china collection in her home. School duties include teaching typing and business classes.

In addition to teaching Typing I and Office Machines, Mrs. Phyllis Cunningham still takes time to enjoy one of her favorite pastimes—crocheting.

Sports seem to highlight the list of enjoyments for business teacher Mr. George Justak. Besides serving as assistant football and baseball coach, he co-sponsored the junior class.

Business students soon learn that constant practice is essential in the studying of shorthand. As these students further their secretarial careers they find that shorthand is a must.

Knitting ranks top on the hobbies list for Mrs. Evamae Bibich. Most of her curricular time is spent teaching the three-hour course in Secretarial Lab.

Mr. Don Binole readies his fishing reel and rod for the coming of the trout season. Teaching typing and shorthand, students fill his day.

Dramatics teach fencing skills

Communication served as a backbone for speech, theatre arts, and journalism classes.

Fright changed to fun for speech students as they composed their own commercials and taped them before WCAE television cameras. Learning to think as a group, students practised their knowledge of speech presentation in group discussions, parliamentary procedure, and debate. While "thinking character" theater arts students produced and directed their own cuttings from plays. The challenge of learning to fence was also experienced by theatre arts students.

Preparing for next year's staff position, journalism students arranged four pages of a newspaper and eight pages of a yearbook. The annual trip to the Chicago Tribune gave students a close-up look at the '70 world of communications.

Sitting back to enjoy a Thespian play is Mr. Paul Lowe. Sponsor of the International Thespians Society at Lake Central, he also instructs students in Speech I and Theatre Arts.

Learning the proper way to crop pictures is essential in the hopes of creating a successful yearbook. Patti Blaize learns these essentials from Mr. Ron Fritchley, adviser.

Mr. Ron Fritchley, adviser for Quiver, Scout, News Bureau, and teacher of Jr. Journalism, offers his pal "Korki" a bone.

Myriad of sounds Fill LC halls

Getting in shape for his annual trip to Canada is Mr. Doug Jordan, Band Director and sponsor for Boys' and Girls' Sportsman Club. He also teaches the Music Theory class.

Practice is essential in the mastering of any musical instrument. Diligently practicing on the French Horn are Cindy Boller, Kevin Swanson, Val Boller, and Kris Harvin.

Whether it's long-haired or pop-rock, the music heard from the band and chorus at Lake Central interests people of all ages.

The Sweet Adelines and the barber shop quartet performed as a service to the community as well as to the school. This year Miss Oldaker emphasized classical, modern, spiritual, folk, and pop music as the chorus practiced continually to present three concerts during the school year.

Beside receiving a standing ovation at the Green Bay half-time show, the band experienced two other heart warming recognitions—another NISBOVA win and an invitation to play at Butler University. Already preparing for next year is Mr. Douglas Jordan who is writing a routine from West Side Story.

Contemplating her next move in a chess match is Miss Sharon Oldaker, Chorus and Ensemble teacher. This year she has also organized a girl's Barbershop Quartet.

Ensemble members Karen Hilbrich, Diane Britton, Joan Kilduski, and Marcia Gerka, accompanied by Miss Sharon Oldaker on the piano, gather 'round to practice their singing.

Home Ec class discusses ban on cyclamates

With the advancement and research of food technology within the Home Economics field in 1969 and 1970, the use of sweetening agents such as cyclamates in low calorie foods became a real problem for the Home Economics and Food Industries all over the country. Lake Central students were taught new techniques in the Home Ec field as progress and improvements were made in the world around them. Fireproof, water repellent, and permanent pressed fabrics required special attention and care for sewing in clothing classes. Foreign cookery became a special treat for Foods I girls as they planned and prepared an Italian meal complete with an Italian table arrangement.

Lynn Grady adjusts the thread control on her sewing machine in Sewing I class before preparing to start on her clothing project.

Souvenirs of a recent trip to Thailand are displayed by Mrs. Barbara Blankenship who teaches Foods II, Sewing II, and tailoring.

Miss Sharon Fauser and her pup occupy themselves at home by watching TV. Instructing Home Nursing and Foods I occupies Miss Fauser's time while at Lake Central.

Mrs. Sharon Hartman teaches Family Living and Sewing I & II while at school. The practical application of these courses are put to use as Mrs. Hartman cares for her new baby daughter.

Painters release pensive moods

Commercial Art students Duke Morales, Bill Moore, and Lavonne LaTulip work with instructor Mr. Lee McKee to silk-screen Quill and Scroll Carnival posters.

Carol Covert applies tempera paint to art paper to create her own pop art design in Introductory Art class.

Are all the paint-splotched clothes and dirty hands worth it? Crafts students faced this challenge as they learned to tie-dye shirts and throw on the potters wheel.

Employing the techniques of silk screening and cover design, Commercial Art students produced posters in striking colors for the Quill and Scroll Carnival and for "My Fair Lady."

Self expression through oil painting was experienced in Fine Arts. Moods were also released by the students through water colors.

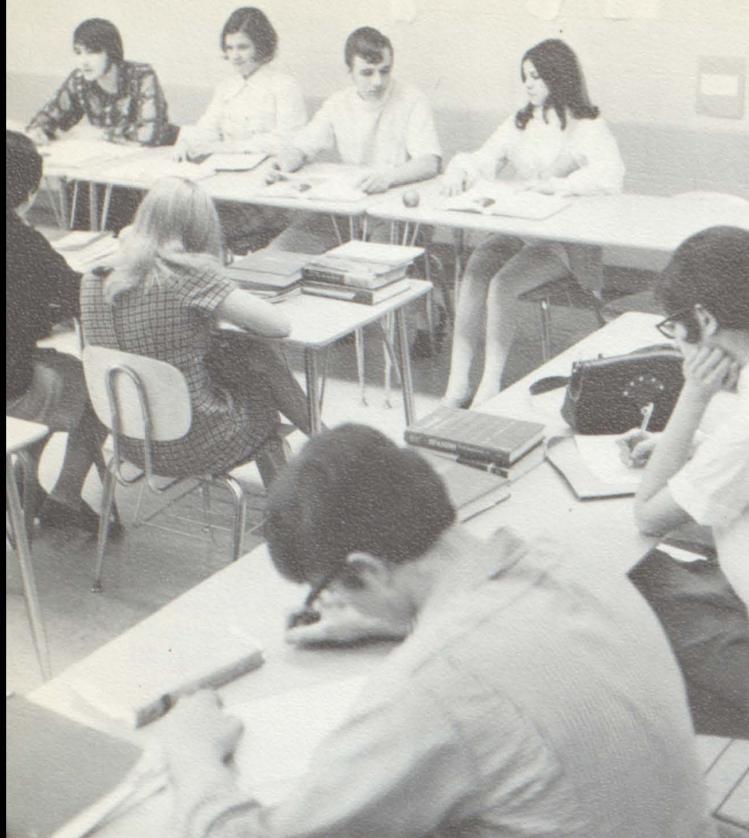

Art I students strove for perfection in greeting card designs. Individuality was accented in the study of color theory and the various art mediums.

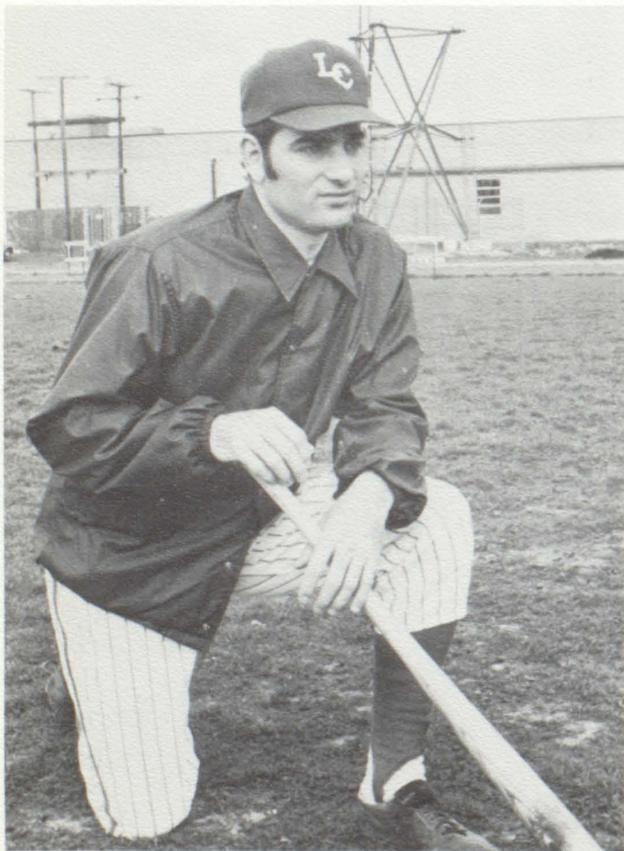

During her leisure time Mrs. Lenora Smith enjoys to paint inside her camper. Teaching Introductory Art, Crafts II, and Fine Arts occupies her school hours at Lake Central.

The inconvenience of clay covered hands is well worth the trouble when the finished product is completed. Here Kathy Kaiser attempts to mold her clay bowl on the potters wheel.

Among the various activities of a senior English class are panel discussions. The unique desk arrangement led to entire class participation making the discussions successful.

Freshmen Baseball Coach, Mr. Richard Ossanna teaches college prep senior English at LC. He also sponsors the FTA.

Students tackle

A fast-paced caterpillar race as a Short Story follow-up, watching "Forty Carats" at the Sheraton Blackstone Theatre, attempting to write a critical paper for the first time, and exchanging paperback books in English class became new experiences for Lake Central English students.

One of the most successful projects was Mr. Quinn's classroom library. Students provided their own reading materials by exchanging paperbacks with other students. Freshmen were faced with the challenge of writing a term paper for the first time in Mrs. Selund's classes. Looking ahead to the future are LC English teachers who are preparing to instruct nine week interest area blocks next year.

Mrs. Janet Crisco, English III teacher at Lake Central, proudly displays her antique record player.

Ready for another day of teaching English II, Mrs. Jeanne Hettich arrives at Lake Central's parking lot.

term papers, discussions, books

A new pastime now occupies Mr. Lee Quinn's life—his daughter Michelle Lee. School hours find him teaching English II and IV.

A favorite pastime of Miss Barbara Raines is sewing. New on the staff this year, she teaches English I and III.

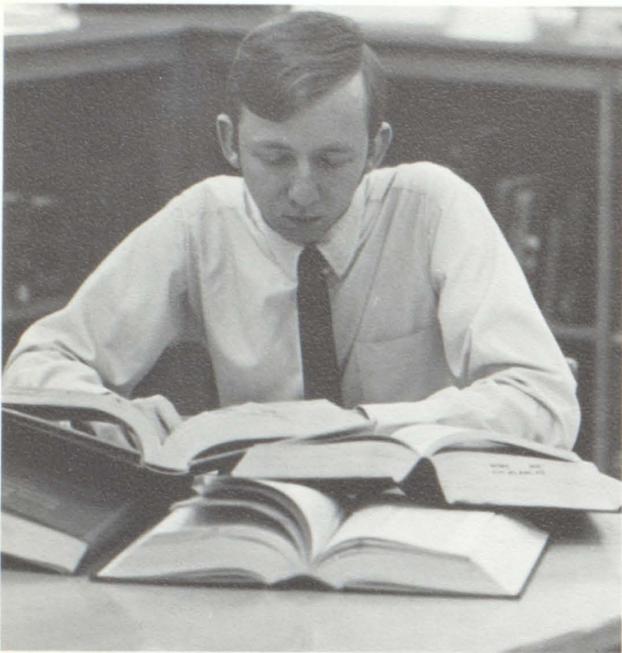

English II and III teacher, Miss Judy Lambert, purchases a Pepsi in the teachers lounge. She also sponsors the N-teens.

Sophomore Suzanne Girman chooses a novel from among the collection on the book shelves in Mr. Quinn's English room.

Class library offers research

Taking time out from his responsibilities as junior class sponsor, English I and III instructor Mr. Daryl Fraley finds the LC library and several good books very relaxing.

Nearly all of Mrs. Margaret Zwicker's spare time is consumed by reading. Teaching English I occupies her school hours.

Senior English student, Chuck Christ, toils over his research paper. The writing of such term papers became a familiar activity among LC English students this year.

Mr. Thomas Linger, English I and II teacher, admires his hand made imported replica of the "Pinta." He also serves as an assistant basketball and football coach.

A familiar face to Lake Central students is that of Head Custodian, Mr. Mike Cinko, who performs odd jobs about the school.

Staffs provide needed service

The rattling of mops and the clanging of trays echoing throughout LC corridors form the nucleus of two indispensable staffs. The custodians and the cooks make up the backbone of Lake Central by providing students with the necessities of school life.

Mr. Mike Cinko heads a 12 member custodian staff while his assistants strive to maintain a smooth movement of services during daytime.

Pre-dawn hours find head cook, Mrs. Adeline Lewkowski, arriving to the hush of empty hallways. Mrs. Katie Stark assists Mrs. Lewkowski while she heads the baking department.

Nichols, Bob Grisham, Donald Newhouser, Mike Cinko, Anthony Kaiser.

Members of LC cafeteria staff are: Juliana Cooper, Adeline Lewkowski, Lorraine Petyo, Katie Stark, Pauline Carter, Marjorie Holzhauer, Lois Senzig, Florence Camp.

Centralites

The moods and emotions of the people of Lake Central High School in 1970 were the true forces which molded the personality of a unique year. They alone were the creators, the artists who drew the framework for school life. Overpowering rapture filled the gym as 1400 voices sang the school song. Friendly "hi's" were quickly exchanged while rushing to another class. Unhappiness magnified the moans and groans over a failed exam. Jubilant tears of contentment streamed down strained faces after a victorious, but difficult game. It is these people, the true Indians of Lake Central, who deserve the credit for making this era, UNIQUELY '70.

70

Pride of being an upperclassman was realized as the Class of '70 selected both round and square rings in their junior year.

Remembrances haunt the senior mind as pieces of four years are assembled representing their strife for uniqueness.

Now memories of the 1969 Junior-Senior Prom are in actuality "Pages from the Past," but to the Class of 1970 reminiscences of this night remain vividly alive.

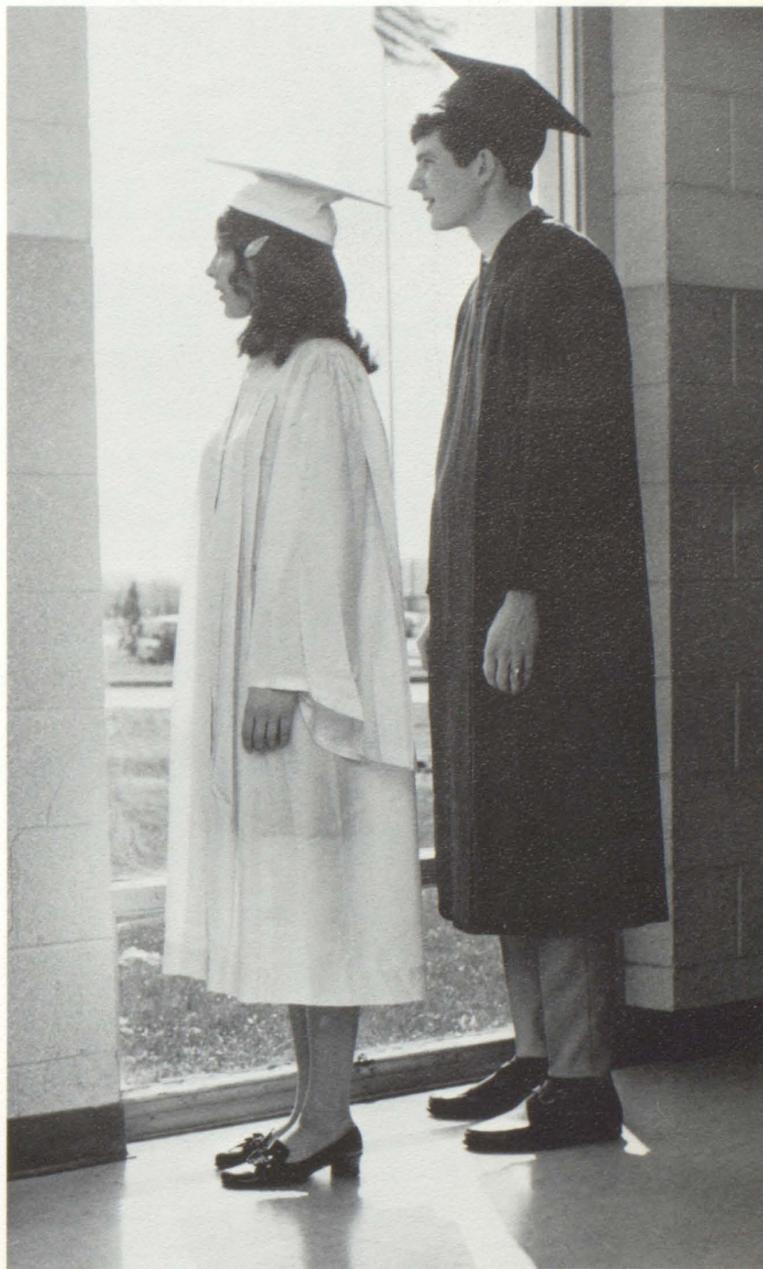

Senior "cords" is another of the many ways in which the Class of 1970 remains distinguished in Lake Central history.

Under the supervision of Mark Nowicki, float chairman, the senior class constructed a first place float entry entitled, "Track 'em down", for the football Homecoming parade.

Class of '70 is strictly unique

Contemplating graduation, Anita Bednarz and Gary Clark consider the class motto "A Time and Place for Us" as they look to the future for an answer to today's question.

The birth of an era marks a new and different type of life for most of the '70 seniors. Being the first class of Lake Central to complete the four year cycle, memories of these years will reflect novel ideas and lay a fresh path for the many classes which are to follow.

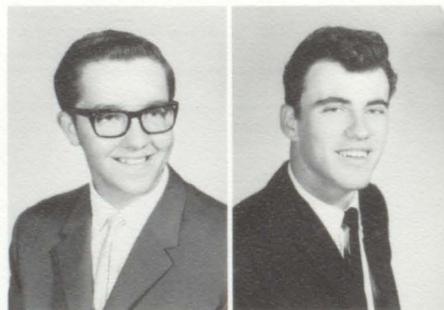

Receiving beanies and the usual freshman "harassment", the Class of '70 was not one to pursue the normal activities of school life. Immediately, they combined their efforts into one and created an award-winning float, unique for a freshman class.

As sophomores, a class trip to Turkey Run resulted in a day well remembered by all. Wind, rain, and mud provided the necessary extras needed to make the trip exceptional, yet an absolute "riot".

A great task was decided on and accomplished as juniors when they transformed the fieldhouse into a scene from "Camelot". To make the atmosphere realistic, they even went so far as to rent an authentic suit of armor.

The senior year was highlighted by new trends never before practiced at LC. "Seventy Sound-Off" and senior cords characterized the pep and unity which the class displayed continually for four years.

Coke bar provides prom funds

Readily accepting their newly acquired responsibilities, juniors were determined to start the new year off right. They successfully operated the traditional coke bar and carried out the junior class candy sale. Hard work and determination combined made these successful in adding to the prom funds.

Their rings arrived in the fall, reflecting each student's individual choice of a round or square style. Both were popular and they added a personal effect to each student's taste.

At the annual Basketball Homecoming, the juniors won the spirit stick for having the best decorated hall. Staying after school until sometimes as late as 10:00, they diligently made signs and painted posters.

Throughout the year, the juniors were aware of their most important responsibility—prom. They chose the theme "the Gay 90's" and immediately began working to make it successful. Months of work were dedicated to organizing and planning in hopes of creating a most memorable event.

Looking forward to their senior year, the class of '71 is satisfied with their accomplishments in making their junior year unique and rewarding.

Discussing prom preparations are the junior class sponsors Mr. Justak and Mr. Fraley.

Putting up candy in the coke bar are this year's junior officers: Gary Massey, president; Karen Oxenreiter, vice-president; Sue Voss, secretary; and Kathy Warstler, treasurer.

Sophomores set trend with vests

Class participation and interest contributed to their success as sophomores started off an active year by taking 3rd place with their class float at Homecoming. They also won the annual N-Teen yell contest at Homecoming after displaying undaunted enthusiasm in decorating their hall.

But their interests were not limited to winning prizes. In November they sponsored a "Sophomore Fun Night" which was backed by loyal student participation. Besides donating a whole night to using gym equipment, dancing, and congregating with friends, this night gave a considerable boost to the class fund.

Sweaters were ordered early in the year and were impatiently waited for until they arrived in mid-January. The class of '72 demonstrated their uniqueness in setting a new pace with navy blue sweater vests.

Spring found sophomores ordering their class rings and studying for final exams. As a busy class they eagerly look forward to their next year at LC which would provide its share of new responsibilities and fun.

Taking a second place at basketball Homecoming was the sophomore float entitled, "Indians paddle their canoe and Mustangs too."

Leading the freshmen class of '73 are Renee LaMantia, vice-president; Kathy Manes, secretary; Carol Nagy, treasurer; and Mark Smith, president.

'73 spirit takes 2nd at tourney

Investing time and effort in helping the freshmen class are their sponsors Mr. Symanski and Mr. Fenters.

Entering new responsibilities and challenges, LC freshmen adapted well and discovered that high school wasn't nearly as frightening as they had anticipated. The initiation duties they had to perform made them feel that they had earned the privilege of being a part of Lake Central High School.

Every Friday morning until Homecoming found them relentlessly marched to the auditorium to learn the school song and afterward paraded through the halls to practice it. Beanies of bright orange and yellow made them easily distinguishable in the crowds.

Freshmen were determined to make a name for themselves at an early date. At an annual tourney, they received second place for their undying spirit. At the basketball Homecoming, their hall was brightly decorated as students worked together as a united class.

The freshmen class of '73 enjoyed their first year at LC and they look forward to other years in hope that they will be as fulfilling and as interesting.

Caught in the fast pace of the world in 1970, Lake Central students fully realized the importance of the service and the quality offered by local businesses. With more money to spend, teams strived to satisfy their need for individuality in their tastes in clothes, fun, and food. After a shivering-cold football game, the taste of a mouth-watering hamburger became a much welcomed treat. Stopping at a nearby service station or florist before a formal or a special date was routine for many students. Late at night, the tantalizing taste of Pepsi enjoyed while studying for a crucial exam was a typical scene among Lake Central Indians in a time which was UNIQUELY '70.

shopping during the Christmas vacation. Joan decides that she'd rather ride than walk and kindly obliges.

Highland Cab

Students, faculty members, and residents of the Lake Central community welcome the friendly service offered by the Highland Cab Company. Instead of waiting for a bus on a cold winter day, Highland Cab has several modern radio dispatched cars ready to roll at your call. You'll be able to go shopping, get to work on time, or catch a train with this fast service offered by efficient drivers. We are also responsible for picking up students enrolled in the handicapped and special education in the community. We're located at the intersection of US 41 and Ridge Road. When you're stranded at school, work, or want to go somewhere and don't have access to a car, remember us and give us a call. Our number is 838-7000, and we'll be ready to be of service to you and your transportation needs.

J. D. Boller Trucking and Excavating
Lincoln Highway

Gilliam Standard Service

Southeast Corner US 30 and US 41
Schererville, Indiana 865-2741

Dog-N-Suds

For a refreshingly cool root beer on a hot summer day stop at Dog-N-Suds, located on US 41 in St. John. Delicious hamburgers and French fries are available to satisfy your hunger. Fast, friendly service is always rendered to you at Dog-N-Suds. Lake Central students are eager to stop in after school or during the summer for a tantalizing treat.

A bewildered Mimi Spragia gazes on as one of Dog-N-Suds friendly car hops tempts her with a frosty, ice-cold root beer.

Aided by the courteous assistance of two Dugan Insurance agents, Kathy Eggers and Janine Siebert find that insurance policies aren't as complicated as they thought!

Dugan's Insurance

One of Dyer's most reliable and helpful insurance agents is awaiting your business at Dugan's Insurance Service at 232 Joliet Street in Dyer. Dugan's services extend to auto, home, business, health, insurance savings, annuities, and life. Come in or call: 865-8285 for expert help and friendly service.

Lichtsinn Motors

For a new or used volkswagen, stop in Lichtsinn Motors in Indianapolis Boulevard in Highland and you will be certain to find the one right for you. All sizes and colors are available for your convenience. Or for the summer activities at the beach get your Dune Buggy here. Our courteous salesmen will help you find the one for you.

With winter months quickly fading away, thoughts of a warm, summer sun and beach parties entice seniors Peggy Ferguson and Mimi Spragia to test drive their new Dune Buggy.

Unique family edits '70 Quiver

Mary Marks, assistant editor;

Linda Schiesser, editor

"It's great to be on the yearbook staff!" Twenty-six individuals and one advisor were transformed into a closely-knit family as they labored to make the '70 Quiver truly special.

UNIQUELY '70 . . . a year is captured in pictures and words . . . a totally new approach to yearbooking at LC . . . burlap cover . . . 18 colored pictures . . . two-column format . . . special effect photographs . . . artwork on division pages . . . teachers outside of the classroom . . . selecting only the best pictures . . . an endless task at producing a truly memorable book . . . Aiding in its production we thank . . .

Mr. Al Schlegelmilch, Paragon representative

Mr. Jack Bundy, S.K. Smith Cover Company

Mr. Burdell Ownbey, Interstate Studio
(underclass pictures)

Mr. Ray Dobbs, Root Studio
(senior pictures, prom, graduation, special effect photographs)

The Munster Sun
(sectional pictures)

. . . And especially . . .

The Administration, for their cooperation

The students and faculty, for the many inconveniences

Mr. Ron Fritchley, our most dedicated advisor

The 1970 Quiver staff, who because of their undying love for their "adopted family" strived to present to you the vigor and spirit of—
